BERLIN HAS LONGEST ATTACK OF WAR

Netherlands Is Bombed In Night Attacks

Raid On German Capital Lasts Over Five Hours During Night—Many Important Military Objectives Hit

By WALLACE CARROLL

British United Press. Exclusive Cable to The Edmonton Bulletin.

LONDON, Oct. 1.—Strong forces of British bombers carried out a sustained attack on the Berlin area and extended their bombing of bases and military objectives in the Netherlands, the air ministry reported today.

No explanation was offered by London for the increased attention to Dutch objectives. It was believed, however, that the Germans might have shifted some of their military preparations to Holland because of large-scale Royal Air Force attacks on "invasion" bases along the Channel coast.

In the raids carried out last night and early today the R.A.F. and units of the fleet air arm made extended attacks on Dutch objectives, including oil reserves, stores of unspecified nature, docks and shipping and airdromes.

Bombs were dropped at Rotterdam, Valaardingen, Osten and Hamstede. Yesterday an important attack upon the Fokker airplane works at Amsterdam was reported.

"Strong forces of British bombers," said the ministry, "carried out sustained attacks on objectives in the Berlin area last night."

Other squadrons of bombers attacked the oil refineries at Luena and Hannover, the ministry said.

An aircraft factory at Rotenberg, a munitions factory near Magdburg, freight yards and rail communications at Bremner, Ehrang, Osnabrueck, Mannheim and Brussels, also were attacked.

(Berlin reported that an air raid warning was in effect in the German capital for five hours and 10 minutes. It was the longest raid on Berlin of the war.)

POWER STATION HIT

The air ministry news service said the west power station in Berlin, hit last week, was clearly identified by flares.

"A few minutes after the first stick of bombs had fallen there was a large explosion and numerous fires marked the success of the attack," it said, continuing with these details.

The Klingenberg power station also was "heavily bombed," railways were hit and a factory set on fire.

At the Mannheim railway yards the bursts of bombs were followed almost at once by a violent explosion and then by a whole "line of explosions so fierce and bright that our aircraft were lit up by them."

The fliers decided they had hit either ammunition trains or a series of dumps.

BOMB OIL REFINERIES

At Hanover and at Leuna, east of Leipzig, they dropped their bombs on oil refineries, and at Leuna, already damaged in raids last month, the fliers saw heavy explosions and numerous fires, one so big the men could see it 10 minutes after they had sped away.

At Hanover, too, the fires flared skywards, and at Ehrang the explosions in the railway yards were followed by vivid yellow fires. The same thing happened near Osnabrueck when the yards were attacked.

Over Limburg, Holland, the R.A.F. dropped bombs on the airdrome, and saw two large explosions and six smaller ones.

Attacks also were made on docks at Cuxhaven and Amsterdam, an aircraft factory at Rotenburg, on a munitions factory near Magdeburg, and on yards and rail communications at Bremen and Brussels.

PARLIAMENT NOT LIKELY TO SIT LONG

Short Agenda Is Predicted At Adjourned Session Next Month

By B. T. RICHARDSON
Edmonton Bulletin Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA, Oct. 1.—Unless a change occurs in the war situation, the adjourned sitting of parliament in November will not last long. The date of re-opening the session, November 5, is little more than a month away, and a short agenda is foreseen.

Two possibilities are seen by parliamentary observers, that the two houses may meet and prorogue with the new session following immediately until an adjournment early in December, or that the present session will be continued a few weeks, proroguing until January.

War policy and war finance are the major problems for parliament, and before parliament reassembles the government will undoubtedly obtain the latest advices from Britain in order to adjust the Canadian war effort to the most vital needs.

On the financial side, war expenditures are obviously running ahead of the billion dollar budget passed last spring, but no official figures are available. At the same time, returns from new taxes are running well up to estimates. Official figures on tax returns will be issued in a day or two. While it is impossbile to forecast definitely, the new taxes that everyone expects when parliament re-assembles might not be as drastic as anticipated.

Germany To Stay On Summer Time

BERLIN, Oct. 1.—Germany will continue indefinitely on summer time, the Reich's defence council decided today. Thus, German time will remain nine hours ahead of mountain standard time.

Feeding Centres Opened In London

British United Press Exclusive Cable To The Edmonton Bulletin

LONDON, Oct. 1. — Lord Woolton, British Food Minister, announced today that 58 feeding centres had now been opened in London for air raid victims, and that other emergency feeding centres probably would be established very soon at Liverpool, Manchester, Bradford, Leeds, Newcastle, Birmingham and Aberdeen.

MAJOR E. B. WILSON

May Lead Regiment

OTTAWA, Oct. 1.—Appointment of Lt.-Col. W. G. Stillman, officer commanding the Edmonton Regiment of the Canadian Active Service Force to the post of Inspector of Accounts at Canadian military headquarters in London was made known today at defence headquarters.

He will continue with the rank of Lieutenant-Colonel. At defence headquarters no word had been received regarding unofficial reports that Maj. E. B. Wilson of Edmonton had been named successor in command of the battalion.

DRAFTEE CALL TO BE ISSUED ON WEDNESDAY

21-Year and 22-Year-Old Classes To Start Training October 9

Notice to report for military training is being sent out Tuesday to the 21-year and 22-year old classes, it was announced by J. P. McIsaac, K.C., Alberta registrar of the War Services Board, Tuesday. The notice requires all men receiving the call to present themselves at the designated training camp to start training on October 9.

Chief Justice Horace Harvey, chairman of the Alberta War Services board, announced that after notice has been sent to a recruit it will not be possible for the board to consider any application for postponement of military training.

The call to recruits to come up for training is being sent by registered mail to the addresses on the registration cards, or to new addresses as shown on medical history sheets.

Penalties Provided For Law Infractions

Imprisonment for a period up to one year or a fine not exceeding $200 and not less than $50, or both fine and imprisonment, are penalties provided for any person who fails to report for medical examination when ordered to do so, or who refuses to do so, it is pointed out by J. P. McIsaac, K.C., Alberta registrar of the War Services Board.

Mr. McIsaac stated Tuesday that action would be taken against any person failing to present himself for medical examination, or who refused to comply with the board's order to have himself examined.

He said a few persons in the 21 and 22-year-old classes have neglected to comply with their medical examination notification forms. If they do not report at once, he stated, action will be taken against them.

About 75 per cent of the notification forms sent to the 21-year-old class have been answered, and a considerable number of the 22-year-old class have had their medical examination. No forms have been received from the 23-year-old class called in Edmonton and Calgary.

Training of 2,200 young Albertans will start on October 9 at Red Deer, Camrose and Grande Prairie.

AGED MAN IS KILLED WHEN STRUCK BY CAR

John Manoryk Is Traffic Victim—Driver of Car Charged

Believed to have stumbled on the street railway track on his way across the street, John Manoryk, 70, 12322 104 street, died soon after being struck by an automobile at 101 street and 109A avenue shortly after 9 p.m. Monday.

Rushed to the Royal Alexandra hospital by Earl F. Mann, 11213 94 street, who police state was the driver of the car involved in the accident, the injured man was pronounced dead by house physicians four minutes after being admitted.

An early report named a fractured skull, crushed right side of chest and right wrist cut as the injuries suffered by Manoryk.

Mann, charged with manslaughter as a result of the fatal accident, was remanded until October 9 when he appeared before Magistrate Millar in police court Tuesday.

Crown Prosecutor C. G. Purvis, K.C., remarked that an inquest is to be held and an adjournmen was required for this reason. No plea was taken by accused.

According to a report by Investigating Officer, Const. James McMurray, Mann was driving his car north on 101 street, when he noticed a man walking from the west side of the street toward the street car tracks. Just at the car tracks the driver stated he saw the man stumble or trip and then fall toward the pavement.

Mann swung his auto sharply to the right but Manoryk struck the left front door of the car, breaking off the handle as he fell forward.

AIDED VICTIM

The drived immediately stopped and with the assistance of other motorists placed the injured man in the back of his car and then drove the short distance to the Royal Alexandra hospital. The injured man expired almost at once, however.

Street lighting at the point of the accident is not good according to the police report. Measurements were made at the spot where the accident occurred by Det. McDonald and Const. McMurrary.

A Mrs. Sam Hadley of Onoway and Miss Elsie Hadley, 118 126 street, witnessed the accident and telephoned the city police. They later assisted in placing Manoryk in the car.

STRICT RULES BAN STUNTING IN AIR FORCE

By B. T. RICHARDSON
Edmonton Bulletin Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA, Oct. 1.—Young commonwealth fledglings who feel like stunting in air force planes as soon as they get their wings will come under the severest disapproval of the Royal Canadian Air Force.

Reports from a number of advanced flying schools indicate that young Canada has a frisky desire to make loops and do stunts. At the Saskatoon service flying school, for instance, several planes have been looped under the big Saskatchewan river bridge. One recruit from Uplands station, near Ottawa, put on a breathless show of loops and rolls right over Ottawa the other day.

These and other instances are behind the severe warning voiced at Camp Borden Monday by Air Commodore G. O. Johnston to the first class to graduate from the commonwealth air plan. He warned them against mixing alcohol with gasoline, stunting, or showing off to girl friends or others. Since the government is spending $25,000 to train each pilot, the rules against reckless stunting will be rigidly enforced.

Casualty List

LONDON, Oct. 1.—The war office's 53rd casualty list issued Monday night contained 128 names made of 29 killed, 64 wounded, nine died of wounds, eight died, 17 prisoner of war and one previously reported missing now a prisoner.

HORACE HARVEY, chief justice of appellate division of the Supreme Court of Alberta, who was the recipient of congratulations from members of the judiciary, the Edmonton bar and his large host of friends on his 77th birthday. JURIST TODAY CELEBRATING HIS 77 YEARS

Hon. Horace Harvey, B.A., LL.B., LL.D., Is Hale and Hearty

Pioneer of the prairies and a prominent figure in the development of the west, Hon. Horace Harvey, B.A., LL.B., LL.D., chief justice of the Alberta appeal court, was the recipient of congratulations Tuesday on reaching his 77th birthday.

Hale and hearty and looking more like 60 than his acknowledged 77 years, Chief Justice Harvey was busy Tuesday morning working on the many intricate details connected with the calling out of recruits to serve in the first draft under Canada's War Services Act. He is chairman of the board directing this work.

BORN IN ONTARIO

Born in Elgin County, Ont., Oct. 1, 1863, son of William Harvey, at one time member of the House of Commons, the Chief Justice was educated at University College and the University of Toronto. He began the practice of law in Toronto, and later moved to Calgary where he was called to the bar of the North West Territories.

In 1896 he was appointed registrar of land titles for the South Alberta land registration district at Calgary. Four years later he was appointed deputy attorney-general for the North West Territories and made his home in Regina, then the capital.

In 1904 he was named puisne judge of the supreme court of the Territories and when Alberta became a province in 1905, he became puisne judge of the supreme court of Alberta. He was appointed [illegible] justice in 1910.

When Alberta's courts were reorganized in 1921 he became chief justice of the trial division, and three years later was made chief justice of the appellate division.

Chief Justice Harvey is a member of the board of governors of the University of Alberta and was chairman of the provincial, municipal [illegible] commission during its existence from 1920 to 1923. He is at present chairman of the board of governors of the U. of A.

Further Evacuations, Better Raid Shelters, Defences Are Planned

British Defences Beat Off Daylight Raiders Following Night-Long Attacks—Some Casualties In London

LONDON, Oct. 1.—With no end in sight to the bombs which have fallen on London day and night for 25 days, Britain's capital is preparing for the severest winter of war in its history.

Its plan is three-fold—to combat the German raiders with the strongest possible defence weapons; to speed the exodus of women and children to less bombed areas; to give those who must stay the utmost shelter.

After another night-long series of attacks broke off just before dawn, London's anti-aircraft guns roared into action again this morning against scattered German raiders.

RAIDER CRASHES

Early this afternoon several bombs fell in a thickly settled southwest London district and there were believed to have been casualties. A raider which penetrated to the central London area disappeared toward the southeast amid a burst of anti-aircraft shells and followed by a patrol of Royal Air Force fighters.

The air ministry and ministry of home security said four German planes were shot down during "abortive attacks" on Britain during the day. Bombs caused "several casualties" in London and "near the Welsh coast," the statement added.

After a tour of bombed areas Harry Willink, special commissioner for rehousing the homeless, told adults that "all those who can leave should."

EXTENDING SCHEME

Extension of the mother-and-child removal scheme to include 14 London boroughs was announced by Health Minister MacDonald, and Lord Woolton, minister of food, announced that 58 emergency feeding centres have been opened for the homeless in London.

"More than 22,000 school children have been evacuated from London in the last two weeks," Mr. MacDonald said. "Many more ought to go."

He reminded mothers in the 14 hard-hit boroughs that "by going out with their children they will not only be securing greater safety but will also be relieving the problem of providing shelter for those people who have to stay in London."

Intensification of London's preparedness comes at a time when German air raids seem, if anything, to be letting up slightly and when promise is held for stronger defences.

GETTING IN SHAPE

Observers reason that the government's efforts are not the result of any particular change in the situation but merely are an effort to get in the best possible shape before the cold weather sets in.

London, meanwhile, with an unofficial toll of 5,000 dead and 8,000 wounded in almost incessant September air raids, received official assurances that a new defence system is being developed to meet night attacks—source of a majority of the casualties.

Articles in London newspapers quoted high official quarters that the new defence should be in operation in from one to three months. Whether the defence would be a new combat plane or a new night anti-aircraft weapon—or both—was not disclosed.

The press carried the news of a new defence means under banner headlines.

CASUALTIES INCREASE

The September estimates of 5,000 killed and 8,000 wounded in the capital indicated a great increase over the August [illegible] announced officially as 1,075 [illegible] 1,261 injured.

Today's War Moves

By J. W. T. MASON
British United Press War Expert
Exclusive to Edmonton Bulletin

REPORTS from Rome of plans to incite an Arab revolt against Great Britain, under Italo-Spanish leadership, bear evidence of serving as concealment of Hitler's and Mussolini's failure to inveigle Spain into the European war. Negotiations of the Spanish envoy, Serrano Suner, at Berlin and Rome apparently have held up totalitarian pressure on Spain and have forced Germany and Italy to recognize Spain's total lack of preparedness for warfare.

When Suner arrived in Germany, there were intimations from Berlin and Rome that plans were being discussed for capture of Gibraltar. Now, on the eve of Suner's return to Madrid comes the anti-climax, with Spain designated to urge Arabs in Asia Minor to fight the British.

It seems probable that the real purpose of Suner's conferences with the European dictators was to prevent Spain being forced into the war rather than to arrange for Spanish participation. Suner is Spain's minister of the interior, which means he has charge of the internal administration of the country and supposedly is better informed than any other official of the hapless economic condition of his country.

SPAIN IN DISTRESS

He has been able to make known to Hitler and Mussolini the fact that Spain is near to the starvation line and the danger that would result to Spain's domestic stability if his country were to become a belligerent, resulting in the British blockade cutting off all food supplies.

Suner is the most prominent pro-axis sympathizer in Spain so that his explanations to the Fuehrer and the Duce would have to be accepted by them at face value.

How Spain can participate in any movement to simulate an Arab revolt against the British Empire is difficult to understand. Spain's Arab influences are in northwest Africa. Britain's major Arabian associations are in Asia Minor. The whole width of Africa and the Red Sea separates the two. West African Arabs can strike against no British objective and their influence or events in the distant middle east is negligible.

It is remotely possible that Spain might persuade West African Arabs to revolt in French Northwest Africa, whereby Arab unrest might spread against the French in Syria to Italy's advantage. But such speculation at this time by the Italians hardly would be realistic. The Italians and Germans, however, cannot allow Suner to return to Madrid without announcing at least some theoretical advantage to themseves after the international publicity given to his visit.

So, the reason for Suner's extended stay in Germany and his trip to Rome has been changed from the capture of Gibraltar to the creation of an Arab revolt.

TWO KILLED, 4 INJURED IN CAR ACCIDENT

Mother, Young Son Victims Of Tragedy At Athabasca

Exclusive to Edmonton Bulletin

ATHABASCA, Alta., Oct. 1.—A fatal automobile crash at the ferry crossing over the Athabaska river at Smith last Sunday afternoon claimed the lives of two members of a family of eight. The mother was instantly killed and a four-year-old boy died on the way to hospital and all but two of the family were injured, one seriously.

The dead are Mrs. Peter Knelson, 36, and Peter junior, 4. One girl, Agnes, aged 8, is in hospital at Athabasca suffering from a fractured skull and three other girls ages 12, 14 and 16, are at Smith all suffering from injuries and bruises of a less serious nature. Only the baby, one year old, and the father, Peter Knelson, 42, escaped uninjured.

MENNONITE FAMILY

The party was a Mennonite family from Altona, Manitoba, moving to Fort Vermilion where they had secured a farm. They were travelling in a 1924 model car without a top and had a large trailer heavily laden with all their possessions and including farm equipment, hitched behind the auto.

The family was not familiar with the road and did not know they were approaching the river. Mr. Knelson, a German, stated he could not read the warning sign as he drove down the winding hill to the ferry approach. He saw the steep banks on the opposite side and thought he would have to climb a steep grade. At Mrs. Knelson's suggestion he speeded up going down the grade in order to get a

ARMY TRAVELS ON ITS FEET: MILITIA TIP

Trainees Advised To Wear Heavy Socks—Essential Camp Needs

By WALTER LALLEMAND
Canadian Press Staff Writer

MONTREAL, Oct. 1.—The army still travels on its feet, don't let anyone kid you about that! This summer and fall 100,000 young men gave maternal care to tootsies encased for the first time in army boots and learned a few things.

Across Canada, members of the Non-Permanent Active Militia in camp discovered quickly that sore feet wiped away all the pleasures of militia life. And most of the sore feet were caused by lack of one essential—heavy socks.

The boys who go to camp in October and later under the National Resources Mobilization Act might as well take a tip from the militia and start acquiring heavy socks right now. It's not a bad idea to have a half-dozen pairs along.

UP TO SOLDIER

The government sees to it that the trainee has a uniform and boots, a bed to sleep on and blankets to keep him warm. After that it's up to the soldier himself.

Essentials to take along are these: Shaving kit and a mirror, soap, a couple of bathtowels, flashlight, handkerchiefs, bootblack and brush, pair of soft shoes, at least one sweater and either pyjamas or heavy underclothing to sleep in.

HANDY LUXURIES

Luxuries that are handy include metal sock-stretchers, laundry soap, face towel, needle and thread. There isn't much brass left on the army uniform but there's a bit so brass polish is in order.

Wash day in camp is every day. Militiamen usually soaped and rinsed out a pair of socks daily and tackled the soiled handkerchiefs every three or four days. This was generally a cold-water job.

Shaving also is a daily duty and a cold-water affair too.

Spending money at camp was used chiefly for postage stamps, cigarettes and soft drinks at the canteen. Some found they saved money on $1.20-a-day army pay and others that they could spend as much as they do normally in civilian life.

METHOD FOUND TO MAKE TNT OF PETROLEUM

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—Authoritative sources disclosed today that petroleum soon will be used in a revolutionary process for the mass production of toluol, basic raw material of TNT and vital to the national defense program.

Defense officials, it was learned, are negotiating with the Humble Oil & Refining Co., Houston, Tex., for the construction of a large plant, first of its kind in the world, to manufacture the material as part of a $1,000,000,000 program to expand munition production.

Tuluol, a liquid of the benzene family, heretofore has been obtained from by-products of coke and from ordinary illuminating gas. The new process involves "cracking" petroleum under pressure at high temperatures and is similar to that used in making gasoline. It has been subjected to laboratory tests by a number of oil companies in co-operation with the army ordnance experts, who found that the product met all army requirements.

A shortage of tuluol during the World War was a major "bottleneck." The government was forced to use a mixture of the tuluol and ammonium nitrate and the resulting explosive lost a portion of its effectiveness, requiring a greater detonation force.

Draftees In East Fail To Respond

CHARLOTTETOWN, Oct. 1—Of 368 men called up for compulsory military training in Prince Edward Island, 100 have not yet appeared for their medical examinations, Lt.-Col. Parker Hooper, Charlottetown, registrar for the province, announced Monday. He said Royal Canadian Mounted Police and Charlottetown police were being asked to check up on these draftees. Colonel Hooper said about 10 per cent. of the men examined to date had been turned down because of physical defects.

Britain's Expenses Tripled This Year

LONDON, Oct. 1.—Britain's ordinary expenditures for the first half of the 1940-41 fiscal year were disclosed last night to have been three times as great as for the corresponding period of 1939-40.

The fiscal year begins April 1.

Figures announced by the treasury placed ordinary expenditure at £1,610,135,776 ($7,165,104,203) for the half-year as against £562,026,216 for the first half of the last fiscal year. revenue for the half- 411, leaving a defi-

CANADA'S WAR METALS GO TO BRITAIN, U.S.

Almost Entire Nickel Production Absorbed By United Kingdom, America

OTTAWA, Oct. 1.—Canada's nickel, it was understood Monday night from an authoritative source, now is being shipped largely to the United Kingdom and the United States with the result enemy countries may be feeling the pinch of poor supply.

The Dominion produces about 95 per cent of the nickel in the world and opinion is expressed that enemy countries may be up against a lean situation because they rely on deposits in Norway and some low grade nickel in other parts of Europe.

Meantime, however, shipment of copper to Japan from British Columbia goes forward, unaffected by last week's Japanese pact with the Rome-Berlin axis, according to good authority.

BAN URGED

Government sources made public no reply to the suggestion of Angus MacInnis (C.C.F., Vancouver East) that Canada should co-operate with the United States by banning shipment to Japan of scrap metals and other war materials. However, the position may be authoritatively outlined as follows:

Scrap iron and steel, recently embargoed by the United States except to the United Kingdom and countries in the western hemisphere, have been under government control in Canada since September, 1939.

But there is a feeling in Ottawa that no economic purpose would be served by cutting off shipments to Japan because Canadian shipments represent such a small fraction of Japan's legitimate needs—at least while other large producers, the United States and Chile, are able and willing to supply Japan.

Japan annually uses approximately 240,000 tons of copper, war or no war. Of this amount Canada supplies about 18,000 tons.

On the "definite understanding with the purchaser that the copper will be used for domestic consumption only," approximately one-half of the copper mined in British Columbia, is shipped to Japan in the form of concentrates. The other half is shipped to Tacoma, Wash., smelters. No copper is smelted in British Columbia.

B.C. PRODUCTION

Major producers in British Columbia have an annual production of about 35,000 tons to a value of between $7,000,000 and $8,000,000. They are high cost producers, that is they produce a low grade of copper with a narrow margin between cost of production and sales price.

Agitation because of Canadian copper shipments to Japan has found voice recently in the British House of Commons and in the press.

The Canadian government's attitude was phrased by Prime Minister King in the Commons July 1, when he said that "as long as the country to the south of us maintains its attitude on not prohibiting sale and export, these metals (copper and nickel) could be sent across the border and then sent to Japan on a day's notice."

Canadian exports of copper for the 12 months ending December 1939, were valued at $53,227,919. The United Kingdom took $30,610,878 worth, the United States $8,512,369 and Japan $2,845,308.

NICKEL EXPORTS

Nickel exports were: $57,933,511 of which the United Kingdom took $16,082,391 worth, United States $28,743,453 and Japan $2,792,740.

Scrap iron and steel exports were $1,020,642 of which the United Kingdom took $90,281 worth and the United States $295,234. Japan took an amount valued at $565,201 or more than one-half the total, but no exports to that country are listed after last October.

BUGLER IS HIT BY BULLET IN GUN ACCIDENT

CALGARY, Oct. 1—A bullet fired accidentally in the guardroom at Currie barracks Monday night hit Bugler Albert Wright in the stomach wounding him seriously. He was immediately rushed to the Colonel Belcher Military hospital.

The bullet went through his body without hitting any vital organ, it was reported, and late last night Bugler Wright was "resting comfortably."

Details of the accident were not revealed by military authorities. Names of any other soldiers at the scene were not divulged. It is not known whether the gun was a rifle or a revolver.

Lifeguard In Modern Style

The Tommy, standing guard with bayoneted rifle on this barbed wire English beach, seems to be tending strictly to business, despite the two fair vacationists who have just emerged from the surf. Regardless of war's peril, they manage such normal activities as "a day at the beach."

GERMAN LIFE PICTURED AS ONE OF GLOOM

Writer Tells of Plague-like Listlessness Spreading Over Country

NEW YORK, Oct. 1—A land of gloom, despair and hunger . . . a dead listlessness spreading like a plague . . . thus Richard O. Boyer, just returned from a 100-day trip through Hitler-conquered Europe, pictures Germany in a copyright article Monday in New York's new evening newspaper. He visited Germany, Holland, Belgium, France, Italy and Spain.

Boyer, one of the few American correspondents to return from Berlin since the start of the war, arrived in Munich June 28, the day Hitler ordered a 10-day celebration for the defeat of France. Boyer wrote that he found the people of Munich, to his surprise "unmistakably sad, quiet and weary". A German explained: "We celebrated once in 1914."

Boyer added:

DEATHLY PLAGUE

"But the most surprising development in Germany is that a dead listlessness, akin to the disease of the spirit that caused the collapse of France, is spreading through Germany like a plague, infecting an increasing number of her people with defeatism. . . .

"It must be quickly added, however, that this spirit has not yet infected the army, the Nazi party or the Hitler youth to any appreciable degree and it is doubtful if it will until there is a military setback.

"For 10 days before I left Berlin I sat in bombproof cellars with the inhabitants of the German capital . . never have I seen people with less elan, with more real depression of spirit. It was not fear. It was not the damage being done or the people being killed, for the raids were still small scale compared to those over London.

LIKE PRISON

"It was something far deeper. That something was what gave the mild demonstration bombings of Berlin an importance out of all proportion to the damage done . . ."

Boyer wrote that when he left Germany "it was like leaving a prison." People called to ask for the remainder of his unused food stamps. "When they shook hands they had the attitude of people remaining in a desperate situation bidding farewell to one fortunate enough to escape . . ."

He concluded: "Every day of English resistance causes more German civilians to say, with a sort of long suffering, passive despair: 'Ach, it will never be over. We shall have another terrible winter. No food, no heat and bombings every night'."

Three Power Pact Story Told Three Days Before Pact

British United Press Exclusive Cable To The Edmonton Bulletin

MONTREAL, Oct. 1.—One of the biggest developments of the war—Japan's decision to adhere to the Berlin-Rome axis—was first disclosed far from the scene of European conflict three days before the pact was signed Friday in Berlin.

British United Press dispatches from Shanghai on Tuesday night and Wednesday morning as published exclusively in The Edmonton Bulletin, first told the world of the decision of Japan, as revealed in authoritative advices from Tokyo.

Paradoxically, reporters closest to the scene of the formal signing of the pact in Berlin were told by Nazi informants until almost the hour of signing that nothing definite was known of such a pact with Japan. On the contrary, it was persistently hinted that Spain instead of Japan would be the third signatory at the Berlin ceremony.

Only when correspondents were enroute to Adolf Hitler's chancellory Friday to cover the signing did they get their first informal suggestion that Japan was involved. German children in the streets were waving Japanese flags.

TIN DISCOVERED IN NEVADA GOLD MINE IS REPORT

United Press
Exclusive to Edmonton Bulletin

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 1.—The discovery of deposits of tin ore in the lower levels of a Goldfield, Nevada, gold mine was confirmed today in a report which indicated, however, that the discovery still was a "prospecting or speculative possibility."

(The possibility that international complications in the Far East would cut off the United States' main supply of tin made this discovery one of tremendous importance, experts said. This country now obtains most of its tin from the Netherlands Indies, Indo-China and the Malay States).

Henry P. Kervin, president of the Jumbo Extension Mining Company, learned of the presence of the ore in his mine last December. Tests indicated that the ore began to appear at the 700-foot level.

The discovery was reported to the strategic minerals division of the U.S. Bureau of Mines and three engineers made a preliminary survey. Their tests thus far have shown that the percentage of tin ranges from 1 to 3 per cent, indicating that the ore is worth about $10 a ton. The deposits were said to cover an area four miles square.

AERIAL TOUR U. S. DEFENCES WILL BE MADE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1—High military officers from Latin America gathered here Monday to start an aerial tour of United States defences — a trip which General George C. Marshall, United States chief of staff, predicted would lead to closer co-operation for "the security of the western hemisphere."

At the same time Marshall said that the war and navy departments had begun work on plans for United States bases at Bermuda and Newfoundland, where sites were donated by Great Britain in exchange for destroyers. It was also made known that the joint army-navy board would leave today on the cruiser St. Louis for an extensive tour of the Caribbean area, where additional defence sites are available.

On the flying tour of United States defences, the United States army will play host to military men from the following nations: Bolivia, Colombia, Costa Dominican Republ Gu am

CANADA'S COW HAS HER PART IN WAR'S WORK

Britain's Demand For Evaporated Milk Is Increasing Rapidly

By R. K. CARNEGIE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, Oct. 1.—The war has brought a new responsibility to the 4,000,000 dairy cows which produce Canada's milk supply. They must provide a considerable portion of the United Kingdom's needs for evaporated milk.

In July the British ministry of food ordered 300,000 cases of evaporated milk through the Canadian department of agriculture and last week added another 150,000 cases to the order. As it requires about .36 pounds of raw milk to make a 48-pound case of evaporated milk, these two orders alone will require more than 50,000,000 pounds of milk.

DEMAND INCREASES

The increased United Kingdom demand is shown in rapidly increasing export figures released by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. In August, 1939, Canada's total exports of evaporated milk were 1,026,700 pounds, of which the bulk went to Straits Settlement and Newfoundland. In August, 1940, exports were 6,128,400 pounds, of which 5,561,600 went to the United Kingdom.

The entire demand from the United Kingdom is for unsweetened evaporated milk. Demand for Canada's condensed milk, the sweetened variety which goes largely to the West Indies, has also jumped from 38,800 pounds in August, 1939, to 541,700 pounds last August.

MORE PLANTS

These figures indicate that concentrated milk products loom large in Canada's dairy industry. Most of the plants concentrating milk are in Ontario and Quebec, Ontario producing per cent of the evaporated milk before the war, but plants in Alberta and British Columbia are likely to participate in the rapidly developing market.

In 1938 only 1.94 per cent of all milk produced in Canada went into concentrated milk. In that year 33 per cent was consumed in Canada as raw milk. Butter took 55 per cent of the production, cheese 8.8 per cent and the balance went into home-made cheese, ice cream and exports of cream.

The figures for 1940 will show a decided swing towards cheese and concentrated milk.

India Government Will Not Lift Ban On Speech Freedom

SIMLA, India, Oct. 1.—The Marquess of Linlithgow, viceroy of India, was disclosed Monday to have informed Mohandas K. Gandhi that the government of India refused to lift its restrictions on freedom of speech as demanded by Gandhi's all-India congress (Nationalist party).

The viceroy wrote Gandhi that the congress party's efforts to propagate the view that all war is wrong would interfere with India's war effort at a critical period.

Gandhi, who had an hour and 45 minute interview with the viceroy Monday afternoon, replied that, although the party was anxious to avoid embarrassing the government, it was unable to "deny its creed in the present critical period of mankind's history."

LAKE VESSELS PLY BRITAIN'S COAST WATERS

Twenty-nine Cargo Carriers Cross Atlantic For War Service

By R. K. CARNEGIE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, Oct. 1—Many Canadian freighters built for the prosaic task of carrying cargoes between Montreal and the upper lakes now are braving the dangers of bombs, torpedoes and mines as they ply about the British Isles, an authoritative source sad Monday night. They have been chartered by the British ministry of shipping from their Canadian owners.

The ministry first chartered eight vessels of a type commonly termed "steambarges" from the Canada Steamship Lines and they crossed the Atlantic in the calm weather of last spring. The ministry then asked the Canadian shipping board to supply 21 more.

COMPANIES SHARE

The board invited the steamboat operators of the Great Lakes and Upper St. Lawrence to Ottawa in May, and at a conference received assurance 21 additional bottoms could be supplied without crippling lake traffic. Each company contributed boats in proportion to its total number in operation.

For more than a decade extreme competition for business on the Great Lakes steadily built up a fleet of carriers on the lakes greater than requirements. Some of the boats were built in Canada and others bought in Great Britain. After Hon. C. D. Howe became transport minister he frequently pointed to this over-abundance of lake shipping, which was one of the situations which persuaded the government to regulate traffic in the Transport act.

FLEETS READY

With the outbreak of war the Great Lakes fleets accordingly were in a position to meet requirements of the British ministry of shipping. Only the canal-sized boats could reach Atlantic ports so the upper lake boats are still available to handle the traffic from the head of the lakes to Kingston and Prescott.

The 29 Canadian boats all crossed the Atlantic in safety. They were of two types, those built in Canada which have their boilers and engines near the stern, and the British-built boats which have their machinery amidships.

While the British-built boats had crossed the Atlantic for delivery in Canada, they were not constructed to weather a gale in the north Atlantic, and the Canadian built boats were less staunch.

However, manned with British crews, they crossed the Atlantic without mishap and in coastwise traffic are able to release more seaworthy ships for trans-Atlantic business.

COMMON COLD CALLED WORST HEALTH MENACE

British United Press Exclusive Cable To The Edmonton Bulletin

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 1. — The so-called "common cold" was branded "the greatest health problem in industry" today by the air hygiene foundation, which issued a list of "Do's" and "Dont's" designed to cut down losses by workers and employees from this prevalent ailment.

In the second of a series of industrial health bulletins, the foundation, supported by businesses interested in cutting down illness and injury among workmen, pointed out that colds outnumber other diseases 25 to 1; that monetary losses to the average person total $3,000,000,000 (B) a year; that employers' losses are even greater.

The foundation warned that colds may be broadcast by sneezing, coughing, kissing, handshaking, or by using objects handled by an infected persons; counseled victims to "cover your cough or sneeze," avoid infecting other persons.

Proper rest, food, clothing and exercise were listed as means of preventing colds, and the foundation warned against neglect of the cold, pointing out that "just a cold" may mark the beginning of pneumonia, influenza, scarlet fever, measles, diphtheria or other respiratory ills.

CHANGES IN U. S. ARMY SETUP TO MAKE FOR SPEED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1 — A sweeping change in the setup of the United States army was announced Monday by Gen. George C. Marshall, chief of staff, as a means of facilitating the training of regulars, National Guardsmen and conscripts.

Supplementing the present nine army corps areas and their commanders, as many tactical army corps commands are to be established, he said. The latter will supervise training, and to the former will be delegated the procurement of supplies and other functions. The idea, it was explained, is to separate the army's "house-keeping" work from its present main task of training soldiers.

Each corps is to contain some 13,000 corps troops, to do the "housekeeping," and three or four divisions, each of the latter consisting at full strength of 18,000 men for the National Guard and 13,000 for the regular army.

CALGARY, Oct. 1. — Apples weighing more than a half-pound each have been taken this year from a tree in the garden of R. L. Major at 313 37th avenue west.

The apples, of the Duchess variety, are ripe though green in appearance and are, according to Mr. Major, excellent for cooking.

PROBE CLEARS POLICE FORCE IN WINNIPEG

Commission Report Exonerates Department Of Charges

WINNIPEG, Oct. 1.—Chief Constable George Smith and the Winnipeg police department are exonerated in a royal commission report made public Monday night of all major charges made against them by Alderman John Petley at a city council meeting March 5.

The report, tabled at last night's council meeting, included recommendations for improvement of the force. Decision of the commissioners, Mr. Justice W. J. Donovan of Manitoba, N. J. Black and A. S. McKechnie, was unanimous.

Ald. Petley accused the police department of bungling a police trap which resulted in the fatal shooting of Constable Jack Macdonald and wounding of Constable Norman Stewart in the Manitoba Motor League offices Feb. 10. A coroner's jury found that McDonald was shot by Mike Atamonchuk, who killed himself when cornered by police Feb. 13, and that John Andrusiak and John Ashton Barnett were associated in the crime. Both are awaiting trial for murder.

NO CORRUPTION

Petley alleged there was dissatisfaction among members of the force over conditions of employment and promotion.

The report said the fact there had been no charge or suggestion of graft or corruption based on creditable evidence against any officer of the force during the long period under investigation, "is especially a tribute to the higher officials."

"In our opinion," the report continued, "the chief constable, the inspector and detectives and the great majority of the staff have been shown by the evidence and demeanor throughout the lengthy hearing to be men of upright character, good reputation and really devoted to their official positions and duties."

NO WRONGFUL CONDUCT

In connection with the McDonald shooting the commission found "the charges and suggestion of criminal acts or wrongful conduct" were "without foundation."

The commission recommended a more rigid and extensive course of instruction for members of the force, particularly instruction in use of firearms.

The police rule book in use in Vancouver and certain sections of the Toronto book were recommended for use here.

Although it found no evidence of favoritism or discrimination in appointments, the commission warned the police commission not to consider there was no room for improvement.

Seniority should be the first qualification in consideration of appointments to the grade of patrol sergeants, and senior members passed over in appointments should be entitled to explanations from the commission, the report held.

BOMB HERO IS MEN'S LAWYER IN COURT CASE

LONDON, Oct. 1.—Lieut. Robert Davies, "hero of St. Paul's," changed from the role of daredevil bomb exploder to that of a lawyer when he successfully defended in court Monday two soldier members of the bomb disposal squad.

The Canadian member of the Royal Engineers, who attracted world-wide attention recently when he removed an unexploded time bomb from the precincts of St. Paul's, spoke in defence of the soldiers when they were charged in Clerkenwell police court with assaulting policemen outside a public house.

"They have been working at high pressure in the face of sudden death all the time," said Lieut. Davies.

"I know my own temper becomes somewhat frayed. They have been under extreme mental strain and undoubtedly became excited. As soldiers they're the best."

Magistrate Walter Hedley nodded in agreement and discharged the accused, putting them on probation.

A few minutes after leaving court, the men, Wilfrid Hall, 24 and Lance Corporal John Gale, 20, were on their way to tackle another time bomb.

Faces Charge

MELBOURNE, Australia, Oct. 1. —The reputed head of Jehovah's Witnesses in Tasmania, Redvers Cyril Domeney McVilly, was charged in Hobart police court Monday with endeavoring to influence the public in a manner prejudicial to the prosecution of the war. He was remanded. The prosecutor said McVilly was a young German naturalized in 1935, and he said it made one wonder whether the Jehovah's Witnesses are being used as fifth columnists.

SURVEY MADE OF CANADA'S WAR EFFORTS

New York Journalists Comment On What They Saw On Tour

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—A picture of Canada at war, an aroused and united dominion fighting with the Empire to beat back Hitlerism, was presented in New York newspapers today by two of a group of United States newspapermen who last week obtained a close-up view of Canada's war effort.

Lowell Limpus, military expert of the News, and Hanson W. Baldwin, the Times' military affairs expert, agreed that Canada has not yet fully got into stride. Limpus wrote that "She's just about ready to step into the breach and assume a sizeable share of the load." Baldwin estimated that not until late in 1941 or early in 1942 would Canada's war effort become a major factor in the course of the war.

INSPECTED TOUR

Some 25 American newspapermen made the 2,700-mile tour of Canada's defence establishments as guests of Canadian publishers, headed by W. Rupert Davies, president of The Canadian Press. The visitors, along with a large party of Canadian newspaper executives, were permitted to see all they wanted and no restrictions were imposed as to what should be written when they returned to their home cities.

"Canada stands today just about where the United States expects to stand at the beginning of next summer," wrote Limpus in the News. "Her factories have been rebuilt to a point where they are almost ready to pour out a flood of tanks, planes and munitions; her new air schools have been established and are all set to begin producing swarms of combat pilots; her army is organized for the training of the citizen soldiers heading for the newly-organized camps."

CRITICAL VIEW

Baldwin took a more critical view of Canada's position. He found "many shortages of equipment as well as bottlenecks in aircraft engines, machine tools and skilled labor." Industrial production "is as yet but a small drop in the huge bucket of war." The Commonwealth Air Training Plan—"Canada's greatest war contribution—will not produce its first class of about 40 pilots until November, and will not reach its peak rate of about 8,500 pilots a year until late in 1941."

YOUNG PILOTS GIVEN ADVICE BY COMMODORE

CAMP BORDEN, Ont., Oct. 1—Defence Minister J. L. Ralston attended the presentation of "wings" to the first class of student pilots to graduate under the British Commonwealth air training scheme here Monday.

Presentations were made by Air Commodore George O. Johnson who warned the pilots against ruining their career in foolish stunting or by "mixing" gasoline with alcohol.

"You are samples by which others to graduate will be judged," he said. "The fact you are getting wings on your breasts does not make you experienced pilots. You must resist the urge to show publicly to your girl friends or anyone else what a fine pilot you are.

"Each of you represents a considerable investment on the part of the Canadian people. It is your responsibility to preserve that investment." Drastic action would be taken against any pilot who broke flying regulations.

After the ceremony the Camp Borden command was handed by Group Capt. A. T. H. Cowley to Group Capt. R. S. Grandy, formerly officer commanding the Royal Canadian Air Force station at Dartmouth, N.S.

Among those who received their wings were: R. F. Patterson, Richmond, Va.; F. C. Colburne, Calgary; A. I. De La Haye, Vancouver; L. M. Linnell, Morse, Sask.; T. Burke, Regina; A. B. Whiteford, Saskatoon; R. H. Cousins, New Westminster, B.C.; T. A. Barr, Edmonton; H. A. Jones, Buffalo, N.Y.; N. N. Lougheed, Calgary; D. F. Raymes, Saskatoon; R. J. DeBeaupre, Hawarden, Sask.; G. H. Carscadden, Red Deer, Alta.

VANCOUVER IS ANXIOUS STOP INFLUX OF JAPS

VANCOUVER, Oct. 1—The city council Monday endorsed a resolution asking the Dominion government to shut off Japanese immigration to Canada and to deport immediately any Japanese in Canada found guilty of disobeying the law.

At the same time Mayor Lyle Telford issued a warning to Japanese that they would be well advised to discontinue Japanese schools here for the duration of the war.

The resolution, proposed by Ald. J. W. Cornett, asks: That any Japanese found residing in Canada illegally be immediately deported;

That any Japanese convicted of disobeying Canadian law be immediately deported;

That no more Japanese be permitted to enter Canada.

"Go down to Powell street (Japanese section) at 4 o'clock, and see Japanese children rushing from our schools to be trained in the background and history of Japan," said Ald. Halford Wilson. "They can't be good Canadian citizens under such conditions."

FOREIGN BLOOD VOTERS IN U.S. HOLD BALANCE

American Support For Britain Whoever Is Elected President In November

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press Staff Correspondent
Exclusive to Edmonton Bulletin

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1—Foreign blood ties of American voters appear today to have greater political significance than in any presidential election year since 1916 when Woodrow Wilson campaigned for re-election on a keep-out-of-war platform.

Thirty-four days remain before election day. President Roosevelt is continuing his national defense inspection tours—in nearby Maryland—and Wendell L. Willkie, the Republican candidate is swinging back to the mid-west from a brief eastern invasion.

Both candidates have denounced axis objectives and leadership and both emphasize their determination to avoid war. The nation's overwhelming approval of material assistance being given Great Britain—destroyers, airplanes, guns and ammunition—is convincing evidence that aid would continue to be forthcoming to the British regardless of the winner on election day.

MUST CHOOSE

American voters with axis blood ties, therefore, will not be able to choose on the theory that one candidate or the other is publicly committed to more or less aid to Great Britain. But there are hundreds of thousands of Germans, Italians, Poles, Czecho-Slovakians, Austrians, Scandinavians and British-born who must make a choice on some basis if they are to vote at all.

Italians comprise the largest foreign-born group in the United States according to the last census. There were 1,799,000 of them, of whom 629,000 were in New York State. Other states with large Italian colonies were California, Connecticut, Illinois, Massachusetts, New Jersey, Ohio and Pennsylvania.

Some persons believe Mr. Roosevelt's "stab-in-the-back" criticism of Italy for declaring war on France may force many an Italian vote from its New Deal allegiance.

There are 1,608,000 foreign-born Germans here, and they are most numerous in Illinois, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Wisconsin. A general movement of German and Italian voters either way would have tremendous influence in a close election. British and Canadian foreign-born number 2,678,000.

Today's Communiques

British

LONDON, Oct. 1—Tuesday morning's air ministry statement on air raids during the night follows:

"Enemy air attacks last night were directed mainly against London. Bombs were also dropped on Merseyside and in several other parts of the country, particularly southeast England.

"In London and its suburbs bombs were scattered over a wide area. In a northeastern suburban district a number of houses were destroyed and casualties caused but reports indicate that damage generally has not been extensive nor the number of casualties large.

"On Merseyside some fires were caused but these were quickly brought under control and no serious damage or casualties are reported.

"In a town in the east midlands industrial premises were hit and there were some casualties, several of which were fatal. Although a number of other attacks were made only slight damage and casualties have been reported from any part of the country."

LONDON, Oct. 1—A communique from the air ministry Tuesday:

"Last night strong forces of bomber aircraft carried out sustained attacks on objectives in the Berlin area.

"Other forces of Royal Air Force bombers attacked oil refineries at Leuna and Hanover, an aircraft factory at Rotenburg, a munition factory near Magdeburg, goods yards and rail communications at Bremen, Ehring, Osnabruck, Mannheim and Brussels, docks at Cuxhaven and Amsterdam, the channel ports of Ostend, Dunkerque, Calais, Boulogne and Le Havre, and several enemy airdromes.

"In the course of these operations an aircraft of the bomber command engaged and shot down an enemy aircraft into the sea.

"Aircraft of the coastal command, operating with the fleet air arm, attacked docks and petrol stores at Rotterdam and Vlaardingen, shipping and stores at Ostend and set on fire an oil dump at Hamstede airdrome.

"Five of our aircraft are missing."

LONDON, Oct. 1.—The air ministry and the ministry of home security issued this joint communique Tuesday evening:

"The enemy has made several abortive attacks on the south of England today. For the most part his aircraft have not penetrated far inland and few reports of the dropping of bombs have been received.

"A small number of aircraft reached London and dropped bombs. These caused several casualties, some of them fatal, and bombs were also dropped at a point near the Welsh coast, causing a small number of casualties.

"Four enemy aircraft have been shot down. Three of our aircraft are missing."

Italian

ROME, Oct. 1—Tuesday's Italian communique:

"In North Africa enemy planes carried out raids. At Tobruk some bombs injured one person and caused limited damage. Navy aircraft defence shot down one plane. Six persons were injured on a flying field where light damage was caused.

"Our pursuit planes succeeded in intercepting the enemy formation on the return flight, shooting down a Blenheim plane. A second plane probably was shot down and a third, although repeatedly hit, was able to fly away.

"Air reconnaissance flights over the route of a battleship struck by our torpedo-dropping planes, reported in yesterday's communique, discovered extensive spots of fuel oil.

(There has been no confirmation of any of these claims from British sources.)

"In the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan our planes bombed tents and armored cars at Butana and bridges and railroad stations at El Vagiz and Aroma, destroying freight cars.

"Enemy planes raided Gura, damaging an empty shed without casualty. An enemy plane was shot down in flames by our pursuit planes."

German

BERLIN, Oct. 1. — The German high command issued the following communique Tuesday:

"Our air force attacked war essential objectives in England by day and night in closed formations and with numerous individual planes. The severest attacks were centred on London as well as the sea region of the British Isles.

"Despite dense clouds and haze the effects of bomb hits could be clearly observed. Operations against London especially during the day were highly successful, despite a strong defence. Numerous new blazes were started in the harbor regions of London and Liverpool.

"An airplane plant in southern England, an airport, and a harbor on the British southeast coast were effectively bombed. Long range army batteries yesterday took enemy ships in Dover harbor under fire with visible success. A German battle plane sank a 10,000-ton enemy merchant ship northwest of Ireland by a hit of heaviest calibre.

"A convoy was dispersed off the east coast of Scotland near Aberdeen. Two ships totalling 10,000 tons were fired by hits amidship. They showed dense clouds of smoke.

"A submarine commanded by Lieut. Jenisch sank six armed enemy merchant vessels totalling 34,760 tons. Another U-boat sank two armed enemy merchant vessels totalling 15,000 tons and two additional ships were damaged severely.

(There was no confirmation from British sources of these individual claims of ships sunk. An Admiralty statement today for the week ending Sept. 23 said 159,288 tons of shipping were sunk by the enemy in that period, about three times the average weekly figure since the start of the war.)

"British planes attempting to fly over northern and western Germany everywhere met strong defence by night chasers and anti-aircraft guns.

"Thereby planned attacks and precise aiming of bombs were frustrated and numerous planes were downed. Because of this defence, only a few enemy planes succeeded in reaching Berlin at the highest altitude, dropping only scattered bombs.

"Property damage in the reich's capital as well as in other German regions, therefore, was immaterial. However, yesterday again a number were killed and injured among the population.

(The British air ministry's account of the R.A.F. raid on Berlin has not yet been issued.)

"The enemy's total losses yesterday were 68 planes, of which four were downed by night chasers and six by batteries of the second anti-aircraft corps. Thirty-one planes of our own units did not return.

(Forty-seven German aircraft were destroyed over Britain yesterday. British losses were 22 planes.)

"A night chaser piloted by First Lieut. Streit was distinguished especially. He alone bagged three enemy planes."

Egyptian Mosques To Be Unlighted During Ramadan

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt, Oct. 1.—For the first time in history, the minaret of Alexandria will remain unlighted during the holy period of Ramadan, starting this week when the new moon is observed.

The defence administration, "because of the present circumstances" of Mediterranean warfare, today prohibited the traditional illumination of mosques in Alexandria, Port Said, Suez and Ismailia as well as the firing of cannon to symbolize the end of daily fasting.

During the month of Ramadan, Moslems partake of food only after sundown.

Towns and villages of interior Egypt are not affected by the order.

RUSSIA STILL NEUTRAL SAYS MOSCOW PRESS

But It Is Hinted That Understanding With Japan Is Possible

By HENRY SHAPIRO
British United Press Staff Correspondent
Exclusive Cable to Edmonton Bulletin

MOSCOW, Oct. 1—An attempt to improve relations between Soviet Russia and Japan was expected today as the press emphasized Nazi statements of friendship between Berlin and Moscow and asserted that the United States "Actually is in full association" with Great Britain's war effort.

The Soviets, it was emphasized by the government organ Izvestia, firmly intend to remain neutral in the war insofar as that course depends on Moscow. But the newspaper declared that "The United States' role in the present war is considerably intensified."

It was understood that the new Japanese ambassador to Moscow, Yoshitsugy Tatekawa, who is expected to arrive within two weeks, would seek to restore normal relations between the two nations.

SOVIETS READY

That the Soviet Union is ready to do so was indicated in the Aug 1st speech of Premier Viacheslav Molotov, who said: "It may be admitted that there are certain indications of Japanese desire to improve relations.

"Granted mutual recognition of interests of the parties insofar as both parties will understand the necessity of removing certain obstacles which have lost their importance, such improvement is feasible."

(Recent despatches from the Far East have forecast vigorous efforts by Japan, aided by Germany, to reach an agreement with Russia in line with the new Japanese adherence to the Berlin-Rome military alliance.)

The Izvestia editorial (reflecting reaction to the new triple alliance among Germany, Japan and Italy) took the attitude that the United States was aiding Britain and participating in close military co-operation with the British, which it said precipitated the new alliance.

HOLDS NEUTRALITY

But the editorial re-affirmed Soviet neutrality, insofar as that depends on the Soviet Union.

"It can be said that closer British-American military co-operation was clearly demonstrated recently and served as one of the most decisive stimuli for the Berlin pact," the editorial said.

"The United States has not yet formally entered the war against Germany, Italy and Japan . . . but the facts indicate that formalities do not play an especially significant role.

"The fact remains that the United States is actually in full association with the enemies of Italy, Germany and Japan."

good run at the hill on the opposite bank. He was travelling at a rapid rate when the car rounded the last curve and the river loomed up directly ahead.

CHILDREN THROWN CLEAR

Unable to stop the car in time he swung it sharply to the right in an effort to run parallel with the river. A large log lying at the side of the ferry approach and forming part of it was directly in the car's path. The car bumped this, then jumped over it, landing just in the wedge of where an old river scow met the shore. The car stuck and the children were thrown clear, landing in the scow. The trailer became disengaged and rolled over the top of the car.

Mrs. Knelson's neck was broken and Peter, junior, suffered a broken leg and a fracture of the skull.

Corp. Adams, R.C.M.P. detachment at Lac la Biche, was at the scene of the accident as was Miss Marjorie Maynes, provincial department of health nurse stationed at Smith. There was nothing they could do for the party and they immediately rushed to Athabasca hospital with Peter but he died on the road before reaching hospital.

Agnes is still in hospital at Athabasca but her condition was reported Tuesday morning by Dr. E. K. Wright as satisfactory.

The mother and her little son were buried Monday at Smith cemetery where the rest of the family are resting nursing various injuries.

LAFLECHE SAYS DRAFTEES NOT EVADING DUTY

Any Failures To Report Are Due To Natural Population Flow

OTTAWA, Oct. 1—"Not a single case of a man knowingly making an attempt to evade his military training has come to my attention," Maj.-Gen. L. R. La Fleche, associate deputy minister of national war services, said today.

Commenting on a report from Charlottetown that of 368 men called for compulsory training 100 had not turned up for their medical examinations, Gen. LaFleche said this situation undoubtedly was the result of a seasonal labor movement from the island to the mainland which occured every fall.

The first class called for training single men of 21 years, starts Oct. 9.

MUCH MOVING

"If a man does not discharge his obligations he will be followed up, of course," the General said. "Many young Canadians move around a great deal. Those who do move should immediately advise their district registrars of their change and thus avoid these difficulties.

"The situation certainly does not warrant any alarming statements.

"One difficulty we have had but which is being overcome is the tendency of doctors, acting as the medical examiners, to hold up their reports until they have accumulated several. In one case a doctor held up his returns until he had 10 reports on hand."

Gen. LaFleche said response of the medical profession to the need of the department had been magnificent.

Once notified he has been picked for compulsory militia training, a man has three days in which to present himself to the physician of his choice for medical examination. It then is up to the doctor to forward the examination and certificate form to the divisional registrar.

FOOD SHORTAGE IN GERMANY IS CALLED ACUTE

LONDON, Oct. 1.—There is a shortage of food in Germany, with the bread situation reported to be acute, the British Broadcasting corporation said today in a news broadcast.

So great is the shortage of rubber in Germany that bicycle tires are made available to Hitler youth leaders only for service in order to keep close watch on rural populations, the B.B.C. added.

The B.B.C. noted German satisfaction over an agricultural agreement with Italy as an indication that Italy had the short end of the deal and said the German food minister had forthwith sent a delegation to Budapest in an attempt to conclude a similar agreement with Hungary.

Willkie Bombarded With Egg Barrage

PONTIAC, Michigan, Oct. 1.—Eggs were tossed at Republican Presidential candidate Wendell Willkie as his car drove through the streets of Pontiac today. Mrs Willkie was spattered by one of the missles.

The candidate himself lost his campaign smile as an egg dropped from the window of a building and landed near him in the front seat of his open car.

Another egg hit a photographer's truck ahead of the Willkie car and burst over several cameramen.

Willkie's bodyguard jumped from the car and showed Pontiac police the vicinity from which the eggs were thrown.

NEW ZEALAND TRADE TREATY IS EXTENDED

Agreement To Go Another Year So Commerce May Increase

OTTAWA, Oc. 1.—Extension of the Canada-New Zealand trade agreement for a further period of one year was announced today by Trade Minister MacKinnon. The agreement was concluded May 24, 1932, for one year but has been extended at various times since then, the last extension being in 1939 to Sept. 30, 1940.

Mr MacKinnon said the order-in-council extending the agreement to Sept. 30, 1941, had already been passed.

The agreement provides for fixed rates of duty on certain enumerated goods imported into New Zealand, and on all other products the benefits of British preferential tariffs. Corresponding concessions are granted on New Zealand's products imported into Canada.

IMPOSED DUTIES

Since Dec. 5, 1938, New Zealand has imposed import restrictions on goods imported into that country, due to the general financial position in New Zealand. Since the outbreak of war the need for conserving foreign exchange has made it necessary to curtail imports of goods from other countries to an even greater degree than has been the case with the restrictions in force last year.

As a result there has been a falling off in Canadian exports to New Zealand.

In the 12 months ended June 30, 1940, Canada exported goods to New Zealand to the value of $8,464,987 as against imports into Canada from New Zealand valued at $4,852,658.

GERMAN FLIER DOWNS ONE OF OWN FIGHTERS

British United Press Exclusive Cable To The Edmonton Bulletin

LONDON, Oct. 1—An Air Force group captain who, in a Hurricane fighter plane was watching the battle tactics of his squadron, sighted 18 Heinkel bombing planes protected by fighter planes, the air ministry said today.

He joined in an attack on the planes. The Heinkels turned off, the ministry said, and the captain pursued three Messerschmidts which were flying in single file. To his astonishment the captain saw the leading Messerschmidt burst into flames and its pilot parachute to earth, the ministry said—the second German plane in line had fired into the leading plane. The group captain then shot down a second German plane, it is said.

COARSE GRAINS MAY FIND MART IN MARITIMES

By B. T. RICHARDSON
Edmonton Bulletin Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA, Oct. 1.—Establishing a precedent which may become a small, but steady market for western coarse grains, movement of mill feeds by water from Montreal to maritime provinces has begun. Shipment of 5,000,000 bushels, mostly barley, is expected this season. Arrangements for all-water transportation of grain to the Maritimes occupied negotiations between maritime governments and federal officials for many weeks. The maritimers want coarse grains for livestock and hogs, and sought a railway export rate on grain destined for domestic consumption. Establishment of a water route may serve as a lever in securing a railway freight concession.

The main obstacle has been lack of cargoes from the maritimes to St. Lawrence ports, which meant that vessels had to travel one way empty if they chartered grain for the maritimes. Shipments of apples and potatoes furnished the answer. The national harbors board allotted space in St. Lawrence terminal elevators for the mill feed grains.

The nursing sister listed was Marion Elizabeth Bell of Toronto, listed last week in a motor accident.

The list of other casualties, with regimental number and next-of-kin (no dates reported):

The United States legation filed a strong protest today over the arrest and mistreatment of H. L. Freeman, Saratoga Springs, N.Y., oil man.

The note spoke of the "illegality" of his arrest and reported beating by Iron Guardists and demanded full satisfaction.

AMERICANS SENDING WIVES OUT OF ORIENT

U.S. Companies Getting Records and Valuables Away From Far East

By ROBERT BELLAIRE
British United Press Exclusive Cable To The Edmonton Bulletin

SHANGHAI, Oct. 1.—American corporations have forbidden their employees to bring dependents to the far east pending the outcome of the present tense situation, it was learned today. Headquarters of several important companies have received instructions from their home officers to keep commitments at the lowest possible point.

Shipping companies are busy with applications for reservations, many for American women and children, for passage to the United States.

Many Americans are shipping valuables home.

One of the American corporations which has told employees not to bring dependents to the far east is the Standard Oil Company, it was understood.

(As the British United Press reported yesterday, it was understood that the United States navy had forbidden families of American navy men to proceed to the far east.)

RADIO SEIZED

As American naval, marine and consular officials here watched attempts by the Japanese to encroach on territory of the international settlement, it was reported from Tientsin that French concession police there had seized the radio equipment, books and records of the American Radio Service Company from the United States marshal and made the books and records available to Japanese gendarmes.

French police also arrested seven Chinese employees of the American company, it was understood, and were considering a demand to hand them over to the Japanese.

Italo Subs Sink Spanish Vessels

LONDON, Oct. 1.—Authorized British sources announced today that Italian submarines had torpedoed and sunk three Spanish vessels recently with heavy loss of life.

These sources said the 4,291-ton steamship Monte Moncayo was sunk Sept. 28 off Cagliarai, Sicily, and four of the crew killed; the trawler Almirante Jose de Caranza sunk Sept. 19 with only one survivor, and the 3,302-ton vessel Cabo Tortosa sunk about the same time with no survivors reported.

Action Only Delayed

A New York station picked up a wireless message from the British steamer Sulairia on Friday saying the ship had been torpedoed—without warning or consideration for the safety of the crew of course—475 miles west of Ireland.

Three British merchant seamen during the week reached a port in Colombia and reported that their ship had been sunk by a German raider. The rest of the crew were presumed to be lost, since the raider machine-gunned the lifeboats in which they were trying to escape.

This is the dirty kind of business the Nazis and Fascists intend to carry on from Dakar, for which purpose their agents have been there making preparations, with the willing or unwilling permission of the Petain cabinet. In point of fact their commerce raiders may be already operating from that base.

The "major operation" said to be necessary to clean out that pirate nest has, it may be surmised, only been postponed. Soon or later that will have to be done if merchant ships are to go about their lawful business in the south and central Atlantic.

Consolidating Appeals

In Calgary a joint drive is to be made to secure funds for the Red Cross and the Community Chest. The collection will be divided in the proportion of 62 per cent for the Red Cross.

The organizations which will share the money going to the Community Chest are the Y.M.C.A., Salvation Army, Wood's Christian Homes, Canadian National Institute for the Blind, Board of Public Welfare, Victorian Order of Nurses, Calgary Red Cross Society, Boy Scouts Association, Navy League, I.O.D.E., Council of Social Agencies, Lacombe Home, Confidential Exchange, Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, Religious Education Council, Catholic Women's League. The objective is $165,000, and the collection campaign is to be put on during the first week in November.

The southern city is thus consolidating appeals, as is also being done in many other cities and towns across Canada. The advantages of doing this—on paper—are many and obvious. The practical outcome in Calgary will be awaited with interest in other centres in this province. If the large amount sought is secured, there will seem to be no sound reason why Edmonton cannot follow suit, to the saving of a good deal of time and effort now spent in a multitude of separate appeals.

All Safely Gathered In

Of eleven enemy aliens and prisoners of war who escaped from Canadian internment camps, all have been captured. Ten of them are back in the camps or in Canadian prisons, while the other is in jail in the United States.

This is a highly creditable record, in which honors are shared by police officers, civilians and forest rangers. Vigilance on the part alike of officials and the public has been shown in the prompt rounding-up of the fugitives. Canada is a country in which hiding places are plentiful and a foreign accent does not arouse suspicion. It is the more reassuring on that account that none of the levanters were able to remain long out of custody, and only one of them to get across the border—where he was quickly taken care of.

It is not an altogether simple matter to improvise internment camps to house considerable numbers of suspects and war prisoners and marshal a corps of guards well qualified to see that none of them get out. This had to be done in a hurry when war came. It is not remarkable that eleven of those confined found means to escape; a good many prisoners got out of German camps and out of Germany in the former war.

The satisfactory fact is that none of the eleven is roaming about the country looking for chances to make trouble.

Called!

Herr Hitler and his co-conspirators did not have to wait long to find out what measure of luck they were to have in their attempt to bully the United States. On Friday they issued their ultimatum. They got the reply Saturday.

Speaking at Cleveland, Mr. Sumner Welles gave a dignified statement of United States policy respecting aggression in Europe and aggression in the Orient. In each instance the answer was a straight negative to the demand that the republic stand aside and let the gangsters carry through their plans for conquest without interference.

The United States will continue to supply munitions to Britain and the British dominions, and hope they will be successful in defending themselves against Germany and Italy. In Asia the United States will demand respect for its rights and those of its nationals, equality of all nations in the opportunity to trade, and the observance of international treaties and agreements.

The initiative is thus handed back to the aggressors. They know where the United States stands. They may infer for themselves what that country will do if they attempt to enforce their declared and implied intentions. It is for them to say what will be the future course of events. What are they going to do about it? That is the question up for consideration now at Berlin, Rome and Tokyo, as the result of the threat that back-fired.

Signor Gayda says Gibraltar is Spanish territory "which Spain is redeeming for herself." It doesn't seem to be making much headway thus far.

Helsinki reports that German troops and supplies are being smuggled into Norway through northern Finland. That tells who controls the Skaggerak and the Norwegian waters.

Australia's wartime general election resulted in the return of the Menzies Government by a small majority. The Premier construes the result as a mandate for full war effort. The spokesman for the opposition says this object is common to his party also, and that it differed with the ministry only on methods. Herr Goebbels will have difficulty in finding in the situation signs of Australian disaffection and the imminent collapse of the Empire.

On The Record

By DOROTHY THOMPSON

THE EXAMPLE OF ENGLAND

III

In the noise of the crash of France a small cry was hardly heard. Yet it was important. It represented the first act of real political imagination on the Allied side of this war. Winston Churchill offered complete union to France.

The offer came too late, but in it was the germ of a concept that might have saved the world this war and lined up the vital and revolutionary forces on the side of the democracies instead of handing over their wanton exploitation and perversion to Adolf Hitler.

With that offer the political issue changed. Before that an Allied war aim had been the preservation of the complete national sovereignty of every European state—a continuation of the status quo, of Balkanization and political anarchy of the period since 1918—a policy which resulted in the "neutrality" and hence the complete vulnerability of every European nation and enable Hitler to pick them off, one after another, in succession.

France will probably get union—not a union as between equals, but union under the heel. The German war aims contemplate a customs union of Europe, a control over foreign trade, banking, currency, an economic strangle-grip on all European resources; and all for the strength and glory of militant Nazi Germany. The cry for the other kind of union—the voluntary amalgamation of the free for mutual defense and mutual economic co-operation—came too late. But it suggested something new; it had vision; it suggested something to which the world might look forward rather than back.

* * *

The turning point, however, came at Dunkerque. At Dunkerque one Britain lost the war. At Dunkerque another Britain was born, to snatch destiny out of the hand that had sent it out to die.

In the daily poundings of the news upon our ears and eyes and minds, where one event follows another in awful and terrific succession, we forget today what we read yesterday. But Dunkerque cannot be forgotten. Dunkerque was the miracle. Dunkerque has about it the magical quality of a great Biblical story, of a King Arthur legend. What happened happened because of men and the way they behaved, but also because of circumstances that are unexplainable, that belong to another dimension of possibilities than the one in which we lead pedestrian lives.

The British Army was lost: the whole British Expeditionary Force, the flower of Britain's youth, the hope of British defense against invasion. By every human calculation it was lost. There was no hope for it. Penned into a corridor thirty miles wide, unprotected by planes or tanks, the only outlet a burning and devastated port with a single pier—a port that was being bombed day and night by planes that darkened the brilliant summer sky like thunder clouds—a bombarded port, a shallow sea, sand dunes, and the British shores thirty miles away; 350,000 British soldiers were in the hands of the Germans. Hitler announced "total annihilation"; Winston Churchill groaned that hard and heavy tidings were to come; Reynaud said that only a miracle could save the army.

* * *

On that blazing beach—blazing with pitiless sunshine and blazing with Nazi fires—the miracle happened. The army was the miracle. The army and a relief force that sprang out of every village and hamlet on the coast of England. There was no time to mobilize this force. No time to train it. It was the spontaneous rising of men who go down to the sea in ships, in boats, in smacks, in barges, in yachts; old men with their faces lined and hardened by the sea winds; boys, too young to go to war, who knew how to tack a sail and wield an oar and draw in nets; mechanics, who were skillful at repairing a rudder or handy in an engine room; men in sou'westers, and boots, mobilized by a grapevine, taking to the sea to save the army of Britain, and with it to save the land of Britain.

The Strait of Dover became blacker with craft than the sky above was black with planes. The army, pouring in from the corridor toward the tiny shaft of light and escape which was Dunkerque, stumbled with utter exhaustion, dragged wounded companions, crouched for protection against planes and guns among the sand dunes, waded out to little boats and big boats, protected by destroyers or not protected by destroyers, machine-gunned and bombed every inch of the way, on the beach, in the shallows, in the boats. And many perished; and fishermen and officers died together; but the pier at Dunkerque held, and 200,000 men came home to England, without whom Britain could not have been protected, without whom Britain would have been lost.

They were not saved by the men in top-hats and striped trousers, the men who went grouse shooting in Scotland and reckoned how one could defend Britain and still not wreck the economic system. (What happens to an economic system when a nation falls?) They were saved by themselves and by the people of England. They came home filled with rage and filled with a sense of wonder. They had a story to tell, a story of a battle against insuperable odds, of a battle fought without the protection of planes and without heavy tanks—the story of the miracle, of the little men from the coasts who saved them with the help of God.

I write these words soberly. I am reporting what scores of men and women in England have written to me. "God means England to do something." "I never felt like that before in all my life. It was as though every one was your brother." "It was like the Children of Israel when God parted the Red Sea."

* * *

A nation belongs to the people who will die to save it. At Dunkerque was demonstrated that the little men of England would die to save it. Great Britain has not belonged to the people. That beautiful hierarchy of title and wealth and commoners was a political democracy, but no social democracy.

But Dunkerque is almost an allegory for a strange sort of social revolution. That social revolution now goes on from day to day. Poplar and Silvertown—London's worst slums—are bombed out of existence and their inhabitants evacuated to Mayfair. Mayfair, in its turn, is bombed, to demonstrate that in this strange war all men are equal—except that some are unequal in heroism, being better than the others.

Leadership crops up in unexpected places, and the veterans of the Spanish war become the trainers for civilian defense. Communism is out. True, it whispers in the air shelters, spreading defeat, but Moscow is no longer the shining city of the workman's dream. He has new heroes—heroes whom Communism betrayed. Potemkin gives place to Dunkerque.

Children are evacuated to safety abroad—or were until a torpedo found them on the seas. American homes house British children from middle-class and working-class and aristocratic families, but the little Princesses, Elizabeth and Margaret Rose, remain at home. To be kingly means to stay with the kingly. The Queen converses with Mrs. O'Connor, and sends furniture from Buckingham Palace to the East End; and Buckingham Palace itself is bombed.

Thus, the war becomes a people's war, and the King does not receive the People, but the People include the King.

* * *

The revolutionary elan of National Socialism falters against this new spirit. To this new spirit it has nothing to say. Day by day, win or lose, the little men of Great Britain make Britain again great, and make it increasingly impossible for any human soul to become a Nazi. And that, in itself, is a victory. For National Socialism will fail when no one else in the world can be persuaded to become a Nazi.

Doukhobor Nuisance

It is a curious phase of the immigration problem that Asiatic and Eastern European peoples force their way into Canada, while maintaining the full knowledge that they do not intend to conform to our laws when they have become established here.

We in Canada must be regarded around the world as easy marks! For instance, the Doukhobors plead for succor against a blood-thirsty persecution in Russia—but when we take them in they make life as uncomfortable as possible for us.

It is easy to state the dilemma, but extremely difficult to dispose of the question. For three decades now we have been patient, then occasionally tough, but always tolerant. The Doukhobors laugh in their sleeves at our irritation and go right on refusing to obey our laws of citizenship. Going to jail is a pleasant holiday for them; incarceration on Piers Island merely a seaside excursion; if you starve them they achieve a happy martyrdom!

Don't waste sympathy on them as victims of a queer religious cult! The facts are—as the records of Piers Island showed clearly—they contain vicious and disagreeable elements, they are vile neighbors and boastfully encourage a spirit of revolt, going just as far as they dare.—Vancouver Sun.

By FRED WILLIAMS

Ninety-four years ago today (October 1, 1846) James Bruce, the eighth Earl of Elgin, was appointed governor general of British America. Coming at the critical period which had followed the rebellions in the two provinces he, unlike his predecessors, Sydenham and Metcalfe, realized not only that responsible government must come, but that it could be made to work without any derogation of his rights as governor. He co-operated loyally with the leaders of the legislature in establishing a real government of the people by the people. He realized that the English and French elements in Canada must join together and worked cordially with all the French-Canadian leaders except L. J. Papineau.

Elgin lives in history as the negotiator of a reciprocity treaty with the United States, but his greatest distinction lies in his firm refusal not to be coerced by the stand patters, notably in his signing of the rebellion losses bill in 1849. Although it brought him personal injury and a shower of insults he stood by his contention that the bill having been passed by the representatives of the people it was his duty to give the royal assent. When he left Canada in 1854, it was with regret, which was shared by the people of Canada, for which he never lost his love and for which he always worked in later years. Even when he was serving his sovereign in China he was consulted upon Canadian problems and his advice was always wise. Canadians should always revere the name of the great Earl of Elgin, especially in these days of Anglo-American unity, of which he was the first advocate.

Religion Day By Day

ON OLIVET'S PEAK

Out of my Jerusalem window I have been looking at the highest point of the Mt. of Olives, which seems higher because of the tall companile of the Russian Church of the Ascension which surmounts it. This is the traditional spot from which after taking leave of his disciples, Jesus ascended to heaven.

What a mount of meanings is Olivet! Below the peak which was the last earth touched by the pierced feet of the Master lies the Garden of Gethsemane. The place of agony is near to the scene of triumph.

How crowded and diverse were the experiences of the Master upon this hillside to the east of Jerusalem. Thither He retreated for prayer, for friendship, for teaching, for suffering and for triumph. Life, like Olivet, is full of meanings for all of us, with a Divine purpose binding them all into unity.

In our Gethsemanes we would remember the Ascension, O Lord; in our tears we would not forget Jerusalem. Amen.

Read Acts 1:1-13.

Canada's wheat crop is estimated to be at least as large as last year's and the fixed price is the same, though because of the storage problem, returns may be slow in reaching the farmer's hands. Income from livestock marketings, particularly from hogs, should be substantially greater while it would appear probable that receipts from dairy products will be somewhat above the level of 1939. These gains should more than offset the smaller financial returns from the specialized crops whose markets have been curtailed by the war. While the present level of farm income is scarcely a prosperous one it is very substantially larger than during most of the 'thirties.—Bank of Nova Scotia

Ceaseless Persecution

Editor, Bulletin: Amid the present European war, in a small part of the world 750,000 people are about to be persecuted for a crime they have not committed. We have read in our history books or bibles of the persecution of the Jews in Egypt during the time of Pharoah and later in Babylon, then the lot of the Armenians at the hands of the Turks during the end of the World War. Surely one would think that as years go by civilization would make some progress. On the contrary, with each century new signs of barbarism appear in one form or another. Innocent people have been tormented in anti-Semitic Nazi Germany since the beginning of the thirties. Law-abiding citizens have been thrown into concentration camps for no fault of their own. Scientists, doctors, advocates, highly cultured members of universities have been removed from their offices. As a result the German culture is taking a step backward. Progress has given its place to retrogression. What is civilization coming to?

One would think that in the twentieth century the word "persecution" would no longer exist in the language. Nevertheless history repeats itself and will go on repeating. Pogroms are forecasted for four per cent of Rumania's population, the Jewish people. How long will these people have to be tortured? Were they put on this earth to suffer, to be part of bloody riots? Is there no power to condemn the persecutors, to stop this atrocious treatment?

A French Hitler has arisen in France, one more enemy added to the list of persecutors. He too, has the will to "purify" the French people of the Jews. What harm have Jewish people ever caused Germany, Rumania or France? In whatever country they have lived they have helped in the building up of the land as they are in the majority merchants or members of various professions. All they ask for in return is to be let alone to live their lives in peace. No such thing is offered them; the thanks they get is in the form of torture.

Tel-Aviv, Palestine's modern all-Jewish city, has been savagely bombed by Italian planes. This city was not prepared for such an attack as can be seen by the dreadful, disastrous results. Will the enemy dare to bomb Jerusalem, the holy city? Have they not a God too, or have they degenerated to an extent that they no longer believe in a God?

The present war is fought to maintain equality, justice and freedom. Europe and the Near East have been made a battlefield of three nations, but the cause is not only that of these particular countries but of civilization and what we owe to posterity. Into this war we must put all our efforts financially and morally. All mankind is to benefit from our success. The question which arises in conclusion is this: How long can and will this perpetual suppression of the Jewish people continue? Is this present war to be the determiner of the fate of these people?

McCoy Health Service

"May I request that you discuss cancer of the stomach in your column? I am a man of 57 and am having a great deal of trouble digesting my food. Have always been healthy."

Patients in the late forties, the fifties and the sixties, who have indigestion should not try to treat themselves at home. For these are the cancer years—the years when cancer of the stomach becomes a frequent cause of indigestion.

Early cancer of the stomach may produce no symptoms at all at first and when symptoms first appear, they may be somewhat vague and unalarming. The patient is easily fooled into thinking he has a little stomach trouble or that he is nervously exhausted. He may think he has been working too hard and needs a rest or a trip.

These attitudes of mind are on the side of delay and delay is the best friend cancer can have.

Some of the symptoms of cancer of the stomach are pain, loss of appetite, underweight, nausea and vomiting. Pain is the most constant symptom, being present in 9 out of 10 cases. Usually the pain has no relationship to eating and does not stop entirely, although it may at times seem to be less severe.

The presence of the cancerous mass may interfere with digestion sooner or later, causing a dropping off of appetite. The patient may take a dislike to meat or fish. Vomiting is a fairly constant finding, and if blood is vomited it will probably have the dark brown color of coffee-grounds.

The chief hope of survival for the cancer patient lies in finding the malignant growth soon enough. If you are of middle age, and have indigestion, the sensible thing to do is to go to your doctor and say, "Here I am. Find out what's wrong." Do that today. Today is better than tomorrow, if you should happen to be dealing with cancer.

In cancer, the patient must make the first move, and he must make it in time. That first move consists in being willing to ask for help.

This column does not attempt to provide information by mail concerning cancer of the stomach. However, various other articles dealing with stomach troubles are available to those who have been examined and found to be suffering from some particular digestive disorder. These articles are: Reducing Stomach Acidity ; Stomach Ulcers ; Nervous Indigestion ; Stomach Trouble ; and Analysis of Stomach Disorders (which discusses stomach pains) . If you have not already requested the one in which you are interested, you are invited to send for it now. Forward your request to The McCoy Health Service, enclosing a large, self-addressed envelope and 5c in stamps. If you wish two articles, please enclose an extra 3c stamp for the second article.

McKenney On Bridge

By WM. E. McKENNEY, America's Card Authority

This is the second of a series of six articles pointing out what I consider the weakest point in any player's game—failure to count tricks.

In today's hand, the average player will win the opening lead with the ace of hearts, return the nine of spades and finesse the ten. When the jack wins and the heart is returned, West will win with the queen and lead the third heart. Declarer wins and takes another spade finesse, and again East wins. A diamond is returned and the contract is set two tricks.

If we count the tricks, we find two heart tricks, two diamond tricks can be developed, plus four club tricks and the ace of spades—nine tricks. Therefore, don't bother about the spade suit, simply lead a diamond.

In almost every case you will make game easily, because it would take a double-dummy play on the part of West to jump in with the ace of diamonds, shift to a spade and get a heart return from partner. In all probability, since hearts were opened, the opponents will continue the heart, thus allowing you to make game.

Kidnapper Will Plead Guilty To Serious Charge

REDWOOD CITY, Calif. Oct. 1.—Willelm Jakob Muhlenbroich agreed Monday to spend the rest of his life in prison for the "perfect kidnapping" of three-year-old Marc de Tristan, Jr., which failed.

Joseph J. Bullock, attorney appointed by the court over Muhlenbroich's protest, said the 40-year-old German would plead guilty today and ask for an immediate sentence.

"He is perfectly aware that when he pleads guilty he will be sentenced to life in San Quentin with no hope of parole," Bullock said. "He wants absolutely no plea for leniency on his behalf."

Muhlenbroich was to have been arraigned Monday, 10 days after the kidnapping, but Judge Maxwell McNutt refused to let him plead without advice of counsel and postponed arraignment until today.

NAZI THREATS ARE AIMED AT U. S. LEGISLATOR

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1—Representative Edith Rogers, Massachusetts Republican, Monday confirmed reports she had received letters threatening her life and political career unless she desisted from attempts to have United States investigators examine further the Bata Shoe Company, Belcamp, Md.

Mrs. Rogers, 59-year-old former Red Cross nurse, said the letters "obviously were from Nazi sources" and that most of them came from New York city and Maryland.

Mrs. Rogers said that since she opposed the entry of 72 Czechoslovakians to work in the Bata plant in Maryland, she had received threats which are under investigation by the federal bureau of investigation.

Mrs. Rogers said she had received similar threats two years ago when she criticized Adolf Hitler for his "remarks about American womanhood."

Last week the immigration service refused to extend permits for 59 of the workers, whose entry to the United States Mrs. Rogers opposed, and officials of the company to remain in the country.

Paderewski Has Journey Delayed While En Route U.S.

LISBON, Oct. 1.—Ignace Jan Paderewski, 80-year-old pianist and former premier of Poland, has been forced to return to Barcelona from Zaragosa and probably will face an indefinite delay in his plans to go to the United States, it was learned Monday, night.

The cause of the change in his itinerary was not disclosed immediately. He was travelling through Spain en route to Lisbon to catch a boat for the United States, where he hoped to spend the rest of his years on his California ranch.

GERMAN SHIP CREW HELD IN PORT BY WAR

Sought Haven In Florida To Escape British Pursuit

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla., Oct. 1.—War is a boring business for 44 Germans who raced the freighter Arauca into Port Everglades last December to escape a pursuing British cruiser.

The chase was the only excitement the conflict has provided for the crew, now leading humdrum lives under rigid restrictions enforced by the United Immigration service. No one knows when they can return to their native land.

The Hamburg American Line, owners of the freighter, settled with the last of its creditors yesterday, and now the ship is free to attempt to dash through the British blockade.

CARGO ABOARD

Cody Fowler, attorney for the Line, had no comment on the ship's future plans. He said Capt. Frederick Stengler and the crew were aboard, and that most of its general cargo was still in its hold. Green hides and perishable cargo have been sold. The claims at one time totalled almost $500,000.

Fowler said most of the claims were compromised, but the largest, a claim for $114,652 by the Asiatic Petroleum Company, was paid in full some weeks ago.

Until the claims were settled two coast guardsmen constantly patrolled the deck to prevent departure.

The status of the crew is odd—they can be neither admitted to the United States nor deported. Marion M. Black, immigration service officer, who keeps an eye on the Germans, explained they are in a position resembling that of shipwrecked sailors who reach a foreign port.

CAN REMAIN

"They came here to find a haven of safety," he said. "If they think there is danger for them at sea, they can remain."

Limited shore freedom is allowed crew members. The officers come and go as they please but must report aboard ship once each 24 hours. Regular seamen may go occasionally beyond the barbed wire barricade that keeps the curious off the dock where the Arauca is tied. Apprentice seamen may leave the dock only with special permission, in the company of an officer.

Eight of the 52 men who reached here on the boat have left. Six were permitted to join other ships and leave the country. Two were permitted to join the consular service.

Maple Leaf Takes Its Place On Flag Canadian Airmen

OTTAWA, Oct. 1.—From Canada's fighting airmen in Britain came the suggestion for a change in the Royal Canadian Air Force flag, the department of national defence for air disclosed last night.

Officers and men at R.C.A.F. headquarters in the United Kingdom decided their flag should have something to make it distinctively Canadian. They suggested a maple leaf be substituted for the red circle inset in the old flag, and this has been done.

BRITISH MOVE TO SPEED SALE BONDS, STOCKS

Wall Street Expects Greater Activity In U.S. Securities

NEW YORK, Oct. 1—Wall Street brokerage circles look for a speed-up in British sales of United States securities in the New York market as a result of Monday's announcement in London permitting private citizens to sell their holdings abroad starting Oct. 1.

(The Bank of England notified its share and loan department Monday the issue of permits for the sale aboard of securities which now are held by the United Kingdom security deposit in Canada will be resumed as from today.)

The decision, it was suggested in financial quarters here, may mean Britain has transported in face of war-time shipping hazards hundreds of millions of dollars in American stocks and bonds for concentration at Montreal and shipment to the United States as markets are able to absorb sales.

Out of an estimated $735,000,000 in United Kingdom holdings of American securities when the war started, considerable amounts were sold in the early months of the conflict. Then sales thinned out as the supply of certificates on this side of the ocean ran low and a break in Wall Street markets last spring encouraged the British authorities to withhold offerings for better prices.

Of some $1,250,000,000 in combined British and Canadian holdings, one informed source figured, probably around $200,000,000 had been liquidated, leaving $1,000,000,000 or so for sale as markets and British needs for dollar exchange determine.

The security holdings represent a secondary line of purchasing power after gold and bank balances in obtaining war supplies. British agents have ordered more than $2,000,000,000 in materials here, the bulk consisting of undelivered orders for aircraft and engines.

Montreal Official Explains Procedure

MONTREAL, Oct. 1—Sale of securities held by the United Kingdom Security Deposit in Canada will be resumed today, an official of the Security Deposit said here Monday.

The official said that for the past two months the Security Deposit has been "sorting and counting" certain United States and Canadian securities brought here from the United Kingdom in July. Now that the work is completed, issue of permits for the sale of such securities will be resumed.

"This is the way it works," the official explained. "A man in the United Kingdom wishing to sell Canadian securities applies to the Bank of England for a permit. He fills out the necessary forms, the permit is issued and we complete the transaction."

He declined to elaborate on operations of the Security Deposit.

CANADA-MADE GIANT BOMBER IS GIVEN TEST

TORONTO, Oct. 1—First Toronto-made Hampden bomber, a huge 10-ton flying warship of the class successfully used by the Royal Air Force in bombing raids on Germany, had its test flight at nearby Malton airport Monday.

Guided by J. H. (Red) Lymburner, veteran Canadian pilot, the ship went into a 45-degree climb with ease after a short 100-yard run.

Mounted with four machine guns and capable of handling two one-ton bombs or six 500-pounders—the plane has a crew of three: Pilot navigator-bomber, wireless operator and rear gunner.

In Monday's tests the plane, first of a number to be turned out in rapid succession in Canada, showed its manoeuvreability to the satisfaction of a gathering of Royal Canadian Air Force and defence department officials including James S. Duncan, deputy air minister.

Wing Commander D'Arcy Greig of the Royal Air Force said the bomber was of the same type as won Flt.-Lt. Learoyd of the R.A.F. the Victoria Cross after he made a successful bombing raid on the Dortmund-Ems canal a couple of weeks ago.

The new bomber, constructed by Canadian Associated Aircraft, Limited, has a top speed of 265 miles an hour. In yesterday's test it drifted at 80 miles an hour about 100 feet above the heads of observers and then went into a 65-degree banking turn as the pilot stepped up the speed.

Balkan Entente No Longer Exists Says Yugoslavia

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, Oct. 1—Informed quarters said today the Yugoslav government now takes the view the Balkan entente no longer exists.

The government is said to feel Rumania's repudiation of all "political connections" except with the axis powers automatically dissolves the entente.

Acceptance by Greece and Turkey of British guarantees last year was said already virtually to have ended the entente.

However, last February, subsequent to those guarantees, Greece, Turkey, Rumania and Yugoslavia agreed on a seven-year-extension of the entente.

Looking Them Over

By Jack Kelly

Still Holding

Better Series

The Roundup

IT is with considerable relief that I point today that the two limbs which I have been out on for several weeks are showing no sign of letting me down.

One of these limbs was the prediction that the Cleveland Indians would not win the American pennant. The Detroit Tigers made that forecast click for me. Out of gratitude to them and a general fondness for American League power tactics in preference to the Nationals' system, I'll string along with the Tigers to win the World Series.

However I'll not tempt fate by any guess as to how many games it will take to dispose of the Reds. The Tigers have plenty of voltage, but it doesn't strike me as being so devastating as the power that the Yankees took into the series last year.

This diamond finale is likely to produce more smart baseball and more thrilling plays than any series since the Yanks moved in with their juggernaut attack. Their batting power tossed finesse into the ash can. Against them the National Leaguers were about as effective as an expert swordsman would be against a modern army tank. Detroit, however, doesn't seem to have so much blasting power that the craft of the Reds will not be highly effective at times.

The other limb, the one which I am still perched on, is the pre-season prediction that Winnipeg Bombers will cop the Western Conference championship.

Tough Year For Leaders

THE baseball season just winding up has been a tough one for league leaders everywhere. Cincinnati is about the only club that wasn't bumped off in the final sprint.

Kansas City finished on top of the American Association and Louisville, which finished fourth, won the championship in the playoffs. Newark finished second in the International but won the title. Baltimore which finished fourth, eliminated Rochester, which finished on top, in four straight games. In the Western International, Spokane ended the season in first place and was beaten in the playoff by the second-place Tacoma outfit.

Seattle Rainers of the Pacific Coast League are exceptions so far. They finished well ahead of all the other clubs and are now leading three games to one in the playoff with Los Angeles.

Out here in the Central Alberta League, Ponoka Stampeders topped the standings all season and then lost the title series to the Edmonton Dodgers who were in last place most of the time.

Rounding Up the Strays

THE "Axeman" is on his way to war. Big Herman Loblick, the Spruce Grove farmer who pitched many a memorable ball game here in bygone years, left last night for Camp Borden where he will enter the air force as a mechanic.

Another pitcher who will soon be on active service is Walter Johnston, the ace who won 16 games for Ponoka Stampeders this season. While Walter played for Ponoka, his home is near Leduc. He is an ardent duck hunter and has a yen to go gunning for Nazi planes. He is headed for the anti-aircraft artillery.

Julian Sawchuk, another Leduc citizen who played with Ponoka Stampeders this season, plans to go east again for the hockey wars. He is a member of the Lester Patrick puck chasing organization. The Edmonton Flyers would find him mighty useful if he chose to stay here.

It doesn't take Max Baer long to cash in when opportunity knocks. Right now he is rehearsing with the show troop that will open on Broadway shortly with "H'ya Gentlemen." Actually this royal clown of fistiana is one of the greatest assets the game has. Time after time he has popped up and given the heavyweight division a new series of fights when it seemed ready to fold up for lack of drawing cards. He may not be such a whale of a battler against Joe Louis, but he certainly has made a lot of money for the heavyweight gang.

E.A.C. Squad Battles Against Leafs Tonight

Tonight at Clarke Stadium the Edmonton Athletic Club will make its debut in the new City Junior Football League when they take on their perennial rivals in sport matters—the Maple Leaf Athletic Club. Starting time is 8:30 p.m.

It will be the second game of the schedule and the second appearance for the Leafs who took a 10-4 defeat at the hands of the South Side Spitfires in the opening game last Friday.

Coach Ernie Stevens of the E.A.C. has rounded up a team of big, powerful and enthusiastic boys but few of them have played any football except the six-man game in high school. They have been drilling intensively though and Stevens is hopeful that they will be able to hold their own.

The Leafs, coached by Tommy Hays and Steve Olander, made a fine showing in the opener and with this experience and a couple more practices they should be even better tonight. Ab Newsom is the Leaf on the injured list. He has a charley-horse, but hopes to get into the game.

The league has purchased a set of black and scarlet sweaters and the E.A.C. will wear them tonight. The Maple Leafs will use the Eskimo sweaters which happen to be the colors of the Leafs.

Arrangements have been worked out which will prevent children from running wild as they did at half-time in the first game.

Brick Peebles will be referee tonight with Pep Moon the umpire and Greg Morton of Varsity the head linesman.

CORNWALL WILL MEET BURRARDS

MONTREAL, Oct. 1.—Cornwall Seniors last night annexed the Quebec Lacrosse championship for the third straight year, defeating St. Regis-Caughnawaga Indians 13-10 to take their final series with three successive victories.

By the victory, Cornwall qualified to meet Vancouver Burrards in a Mann Cup semi-final starting late this week. It will be a best of three series with the victor meeting either St Catharines or Brampton, two Ontario teams, for the Canadian title.

Cornwall gained a 3-2 lead in the first quarter and seemed content to stay just in front of their opponents throughout the game.

Harry Payette and Joe Conant paced the Seniors to their victory with three goals apiece, while Anderson, Nicholson and Gosselin each picked up two.

Series Data

CINCINNATI, Oct. 1. — World series facts:

Where—Crosley Field, Cincinnati, first two games; Briggs Stadium, Detroit, next three; Crosley Field, games six and seven if needed for a decision.

When—Series starts here Wednesday at 1:30 p.m., E.S.T. (11:30 a.m. M.S.T.); same game time in Detroit; postponement for rain would set the whole schedule back a day.

Who—Cincinnati Reds of the National League and Detroit Tigers of the American.

Retains Title

LACOMBE, Oct. 1—I. O. (Chub) Irish, playing par golf on the last 18 holes after finishing four down in the first 18, retained the championship of the Lacombe Golf Club Sunday when he defeated Oliver Vickerson on the thirty-fifth hole, two up and one to go. Vickerson was in excellent form in the morning round, when Irish was unable to match his driving and putting. In the afternoon play, Irish settled down to par golf, closely followed by Vickerson, but two birdies by Irish were just enough to give him the margin of victory.

Tigers Rated 7-10 Favorites to Win World Series

SPORTS BULLETIN

Kings Of Swat Crowned By Major Leagues

Above are the two batting kings for the 1940 baseball season. On the left is Debs Garms of the Pittsburgh Pirates who led the National League with an average of .355 for 103 games, beating out Lombardi of Cincinnati by 36 points. On the right is Joe DiMaggio of the New York Yankees, king of American League hitters for the second successive year. His average was .350 for 135 games, but the general slump of the Yanks is reflected in the fact his average is 30 points lower than it was for 1939.

LOUISVILLE WINS GOVERNOR'S CUP

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 1—Louisville Colonels defeated Kansas City Blues 3-0 Monday night to win the American Association playoff championship series and the right to meet Newark Bears, winners of the International League playoff, in the little world series.

Lanky Tex Hughson held the Blues to four scattered hits while his mates got to Charley Stanceu and Charley Wensloff for six hits including a home run in the eighth with one on by Freddie Sington.

The little world series opens Wednesday with the first three games in Louisville and the remaining four if necessary, at Newark.

Louisville defeated Rochester last year in the little world series. The team finished fourth in this season's schedule.

Kansas City	000 000 000—0	4	1
Louisville	010 000 020—3	6	0

Stanceu, Wensloff and Riddle; Hughson and Lewis. (Louisville wins Governor's cup 4 to 2).

With The Pin Busters

In the C.N.R. 10 pin league games Monday night at Recreation alleys Alf Rankine showed the way, rolling 222 in his first to top the singles and then proceeded to annex high three-game with 195 and 180 to total 597.

MERCANTILE 10 PINS

Henry Baron of the Drew Machine quintet was hitting them Monday chalking up 255 in his second game for high score in the Mercantile 10 pin group. Henry had 195 in his first game and although he dropped a little in his third to 183 his total was 633, the best for the night.

Barker rolling for the Indians compiled 624 and Wright also went over the 600 mark. Peppers had the best team total, 2579 with Drew Machine in the next spot with 2539.

MONDAY NITE 5 PINS

Sixteen teams were in action in the Monday Nite five pin league and the Paulin Chambers aggregation produced both best singles and three-game records. Jimmy Middleton picked up 305 in his last effort to top the players and Ingie Cameron's 760 made up of 214, 277 and 169 was the best total.

The Army and Navy team and the Caps were the only three-game winners for the night. Pats lead the aggregate parade with 2873 and Rough Necks were next in line with 2850.

ZELLER'S MIXED 5 PINS

In the Zeller's mixed league Miss Scott of Zellerettes had high single with 224 and Hovind had the best aggregate 512 made up of 195, 151 and 166.

The Zellerettes had a grand total of 1959 and won three games. The Aces made 1857 for next best but won only two games, the same as Gaynors.

BILL KELLY ROLLS 257

Bill Kelly was the Ace bowler Monday night with the Civic Block five pinners making 191, 287 and 257 for a grand total of 736 which gave him high singles and three-game count as well.

McCallum's sidekicks won three straight and in doing so compiled 2427 the best team score.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S LEAGUE

Ted Wilson of Norwood's second team was high scorer in the Young People's League. Ted bowled 233, 206, 293 to total 732 and captured both singles and three-game honors. His team took three straight games and the team total was 2554 which was highest for the group.

Garms, Joe DiMaggio Take Batting Crowns

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—Joe DiMaggio of New York Yankees and Debs Garms of Pittsburgh Pirates were today crowned unofficial batting leaders of their respective leagues.

DiMaggio, capturing the American League title for the second successive season, ended up with a .350 mark, 30 points below his winning percentage of last year.

Garms, in taking the National League honors with a .355 average, did not reach the 400-at-bat minimum formerly believed required for the leadership, but was assured the title by the National League office. His mark was six points higher than Johnny Mize's 1939 average.

Home-run production was higher than last year—Mize leading both leagues with 43. Hank Greenberg's September spurt ousted Jimmie Foxx, the pacesetter since May, and won the league honors with 41. Foxx, incidentally, hit the 500th homer of his career. He thus has more than any other active big leaguer. Mize, besides taking home run laurels, drove in the most runs, 136; while Greenberg led his league with 150.

The final unofficial records:

Sports .... Roundup

By EDDIE BRIETZ
Associated Press Sports Writer

CINCINNATI, Oct. 1. — This fine old city is baseball crazier than it was when we shoved in a year ago. . . . Mebbe it's because the Reds haven't already lost a pair to the Yanks . . . At any rate, if the fever is any worse when we move on to Detroit, we're going to head for the nearest storm shelter and stay there for the duration . . . Even the sober-faced deacon Bill McKechnie is going around wise cracking (the Deacon wasn't feeling so perky when he brought the boys home after those first two games in New York last year) . . . There is a feeling around town the Reds are going to take the series in five or six games and the feeling isn't based on the fact the Tiger pitchers are whipped down, either . . . James J. Carroll, the big St. Louis bookie, is here quoting the Tigers 2-3 favorites and stands to clean up a fortune if the Reds drop out again.

Billy Kelly, sports editor of the Buffalo Courier-Express, may have scored a beat if what he wrote the other day pans out—that Detroit may swap Buck Newsom during the winter because some of the Tiger fans have soured on some of his antics.

Glenn Cunningham, who has gone in for longer distances, probably will run in the Sugar Bowl two-mile . . . Disgusted Dept: Marvin Cress of the Spencer (N.C.) high, made two touchdown runs of 98 and 85 yards vs. Winston-Salem the other day, but both times he was called back by "that man."

More pedestrians are injured by falling than are injured by automobiles.

Denies Rumor

DETROIT, Oct. 1.—Mickey Cochrane, who managed the 1934-35 pennant winning Detroit baseball teams, said Monday he had not been approached by the Cleveland Indians management regarding a possible appointment as manager if Oscar Vitt resigns.

SAIDLER SHOOTS PERFECT SCORES

O'Neill Goes Up

CLEVELAND, Oct. 1. — Steve O'Neill, manager of Buffalo Baseball club in the International league and former pilot of Cleveland Indians, said Monday he would be with a big club next season.

O'Neill succeeded Walter Johnson as Cleveland manager Aug. 5, 1935, and remained at the helm through the 1937 campaign. He was followed by Oscar Vitt.

Lombardi and Frey Still on Injured List

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

CINCINNATI, Oct. 1.—The tidal wave of another world series washed over the Queen City today, beaching baseball's notable personages and lifting the populace into a high state of excitement in advance of Wednesday's first game between Detroit Tigers and Cincinnati Reds.

The big question today was whether two of the Reds' injured regulars, catcher Ernie Lombardi and second baseman Lonnie Frey, would be able to play. Not even Manager Bill McKechnie knew the answer.

The Tigers already have been established favorites at 7 to 10 and the crippled condition of the Cincinnati team made it likely the odds against Reds would lengthen.

Tickets still were a frantic problem for some fans. Fabulous prices were asked by ticket brokers.

Crosley Field was certain to be jammed to its capacity for about 33,000 including bleachers and standing room.

Both teams will work out lightly today. Not until then are the probable pitchers likely to become known. Managers McKechnie and Del Baker have committed themselves only to Paul Derringer and Bucky Walters for Cincinnati, and Buck Newsom and schoolboy Rowe for Detroit in the first two games—order as yet undecided.

Derringer, a 20 and 12 winner during the regular season, was the Reds' most likely choice for the opener.

Rowe gained an edge over Newsom in the guessing for the Tigers' No. 1 man because of his steadiness. His season record is 16 won and 3 lost.

Although McKechnie said he didn't know whether his cripples would be able to start, some Cincinnati players said they believed Frey, whose right big toe is broken, probably could take his place in the lineup but that Lombardi likely would miss at least the first game. The big catcher sprained his right ankle two weeks ago.

DETROIT, Oct. 1.—Detroit Tigers, Cinderella champions of the American Baseball League, left Monday for Cincinnati to open the world series Wednesday with the National League champion Reds. The team was in top physical condition.

As the club set out after its first world championship since 1935, Manager Del Baker, recovering from a cold that kept him from directing the Tigers in their game at Cleveland Sunday, remained undecided whether Lynwood "Schoolboy" Rowe or Buck Newsom would be first to face the Reds.

After games in Cincinnati Wednesday and Thursday the Tigers will return to Detroit Friday morning. The series schedule calls for games here Friday, Saturday and, if necessary, Sunday.

Meanwhile, a happy city, enthusiastic in its tributes to the team and manager, counted on the fighting qualities of players and pilot to carry the Tigers to further glory.

Ontario All-Stars Force Fifth Game For Junior Lacrosse Title

Fight and Errors Feature Seattle Win

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 1.—Seattle swamped Los Angeles Monday night by a score of 18-4 and took a three-to-one lead in the Pacific Coast League president's cup playoff.

The Angels used five pitchers and they all looked alike to the Rainiers, who won the championship in the regular playing season. Seattle collected 21 hits and was aided by six errors as the Los Angeles infield went to pieces.

Six thousand fans cheered wildly as a fight broke out between the players in the sixth inning when Pitcher Jack Fallon of Los Angeles rushed Coach Eddie Taylor of the Seattle nine.

The squabble was settled without material damage to anyone but the Angel club, which blew up and let the Rainiers score eight runs in the eighth. A doubleheader will be played tonight.

Seattle had scored three runs in the sixth inning for a 9 to 2 lead when Fallon rushed off the mound after Coach Eddie Taylor of the Rainiers. Collins stepped in to hold off Taylor. In no time the entire Seattle club was out of the dugout to defend the coach who had been riding Fallon. Angel supporters also rushed in and Umpires Ray Snyder and Bill Engeln were caught in the milling throng.

For the most part it was a pushing contest as the fans howled with satisfaction. When would-be combatants were separated and the boys had been pacified, Manager Arnold "Jigger" Statz took Fallon out of the game and sent in Thomas who got the side out.

Seattle made it 10 to 2 in the seventh on Gyselman's homer.

The contest lapsed into a comedy of errors in the eighth as the Rainiers batted around. Seattle scored eight runs in this frame, driving both Thomas and Berry to the showers. The Rainiers got six hits and were helped along by four errors. Strata finally got the side out after 12 men had their turn. Score:

Seattle	221 103 180—18	21	0

Stukus Peeved Refuses To Play For Argonauts

TORONTO, Oct. 1.—Dissatisfied with a shift to a blocking-back position, Bill Stukus, Toronto Argonauts' outstanding quarterback, confirmed last night that he had decided not to play this season—unless he got his old job back.

Selected all-Canadian quarterback last season, Stukus has been with Argonauts five years during which the Scullers won two Dominion championships. He is a brilliant passer and one of the best safety men in the east.

Reticent to talk about his split with Coach Len Hayman, Stukus would say only that he got no satisfaction in the blocking position and that Hayman had refused his request to let him call signals again. Saturday Hayman said: "There is nothing definite but as far as I know Bill Stukus will not play this fall."

Stukus was not in uniform when Balmy Beach beat Argos 12-3 for the Toronto city championship Saturday.

Track Notes

By HAROLD DEAN

AN ALMOST ideal day was the gift of the weather man to the Amateur officials for Saturday's provincial track and field meet at Clarke stadium. A slight head wind militated against the breaking of track records.

The meet was well organized and well handled. A. S. Bird as chairman and chief referee kept everything running smoothly and congrats are due to the officials who put the big job across.

A. D. Lawrence as secretary of the local committee was no doubt glad to write finis to the 1940 meet—there were well over 200 entries which meant an endless amount of detail. The success of the affair is in no small measure due to A. R.'s unceasing efforts.

Roy Haliburton was clocker-in-chief and as the sprinters were tearing toward the tape the ex-Alberta champ looked as if he would like to be back at it himself.

The loud-speakers were a real boon to the crowd—which was disappointingly small—considering the importance of the event.

Frank Drayton as announcer-deluxe was quite at home behind the mike and when he wasn't otherwise engaged aided and abetted friendly strife amongst the various school factions in the stands.

While some of the schools evidently forgot a meet was on, Victoria high was well represented in the events and Vic supporters turned out in full force to boost for points.

Eastwood high students were also on the job and did their best to keep Vic off the air. The many verbal battles between the two rival groups added considerable color to the occasion.

West Glenora while lacking in numbers was out to tell the world. Garneau's name was heard once during the afternoon but Scona appeared to be missing—in the stands at least.

Canmore, the cradle of many fine athletes entered seven competitors and the boys from the town which has probably produced more fine hockey players for its size than any other community placed in eight events which was pretty good where the competition was so tough.

Marty Dewis of Canmore, one of Varsity's all-time greats arrived during the afternoon to have a look-see. Marty it will be remembered was one of the University's greatest point getters in inter-university meets and also won the Kerr five-mile trophy so often it was finally given to him in desperation. He leaves in a few days to join the air force.

The brother and sister act put on by Kitscoty's team was rather unusual. It is not often two from one family pick off their respective aggregate titles on one day. Too bad Harold Chisholm didn't have some opposition to make him go over 10' 7" in the pole vault. Moving pictures were taken of him in action for record purposes.

Tommy Steele, Doug Mitchell and Bud Hall along with Ken Bradshaw make it tough for other competitors. They all came through as usual.

With the senior girls Gertrude Hagen and Ruth Tate had things pretty much their own way. Gertrude certainly shows class and should not be lost sight of by athletic officials. The same applies to June Causgrove.

Edythe Skitch who is just 12 took a first and third in the 16 year division—she will be heard from plenty in the next few years.

How come there was no opposition for the Crescent high school relay team from Calgary? It seems strange no team from city schools would oppose them.

Peden-Moretti Win Bike Race

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—Torchy Peden, of Victoria, B.C., and Cesar Moretti of Italy, stole a lap in the final-hour sprints to win Washington's first international six-day bicycle race which ended at 1 a.m. Sunday.

Jules Audy of Montreal and Heinz Vopel, German rider, finished second, their sprint point total giving them the runner-up position over the team of Archie Bollaert and Gerard Debaets.

The final standings:

Con Smythe Expects Only Two New Men on Maple Leafs' Roster

By JACK CROUCHER

British United Press, Exclusive to Edmonton Bulletin

TORONTO, Oct. 1.—The Toronto Maple Leafs start their training period Oct. 15 in preparation for the first game of the 1940-41 hockey season with the New York Rangers in Maple Leaf Garden, Nov. 2. The team—with substitutes—comprising 20 men, will train at the St. Catharines, Ont., Arena.

Connie Smythe, manager of the Leafs, said he had six youngsters on the team last year who had "made good." They played 6 to 15 games each last year.

The six includes: Walter Stanowski, of Winnipeg; "Billy the Kid" Taylor, who formerly played with the Oshawa, Ont., junior champions, "Lex" Chisholm, another Oshawa puck-handler who played with the Oshawa seniors; Don Metz, of Regina; "Hank" Goldup, of Kingston, Ont.; and "Red" Heron, of Toronto. Their ages range from 20 to 22.

"We put up a good battle last year against the Rangers in the fight for the championship and we ought to do better this year," Connie said.

LIKELY LINEUP

He told British United Press the team would be composed of Goalie "Turk" Broda, Defencemen "Bingo" Kampman, "Bucko" Macdonald, Reg. Hamilton, Jack Church and Wally Stanowski.

Forwards: Bob Davidson, Gordon Drillon, "Sil" Apps, Gus Marker, Pete Langelle, another Winnipegger; Hank Goldup, Dave Schriner, "Red" Herron, "Lex" Chisholm, "Billy the Kid" Taylor and the Metz brothers, Don and Nick.

"I haven't made up my mind who the other two players will be, as yet," Smythe said. "I have several good prospects in mind, however."

HORNER MISSED

Smythe said it was a "terrific loss" when "Red" Horner retired from professional hockey. Another major change was the loss of Dick Irwin, who left Leafs to coach the Canadiens.

The Toronto Garden is all spic and span with some parts newly painted and the usual large turnouts of rabid hockey fans are expected during the new season.

Asked whether Canada's war effort was liable to disrupt his team, Smythe said that all his boys had served their military training period and that he didn't expect any disruption of the team—at least until after the first of the year.

AMERICANS BUY KHAN'S MAHMOUD

LONDON, Oct. 1. — Mahmoud, winner of the Epsom Derby in 1936, and considered England's greatest Derby horse, has been sold by the Aga Khan to a United States syndicate for $84,000 it was announced today.

The syndicate, it was said, included "members of the Vanderbilt and Chrysler families." Walter Chrysler, Jr., and Alfred Vanderbilt were members of the syndicate which recently bought another famous Derby winner, Bahram, from the Indian potentate.

Mahmoud, a grey son of Blandford, won the 1936 Derby in the record time of two minutes 33 4-5 seconds. The shipment of the horse to the United States is being arranged by his new owners.

Americans now own three Derby winners sired by Blandford—Blenheim, Bahram and Mahmoud.

Toronto Beaches Defeat Argos In City Title Game

TORONTO, Oct. 1.—Taking advantage of every mistake, Balmy Beach outplayed Toronto Argonauts steadily after the first quarter Saturday to defeat the Big Four team 12-3, for the Toronto city football championship before 15,000 fans in Varsity stadium.

Argos got off to a lead early in the game when they recovered Frank Seymour's fumble five yards out and Johnny Munro kicked a placement field goal. But that was the last occasion on which they threatened the Beach goal line and Beaches wiped out the deficit at the start of the second quarter.

Hugh Tunnicliffe kicked the tying field goal from placement and then Leo Deadey picked up Elvin Morris' fumble on the Argo six to race across for a touchdown. Tunnicliffe converted it.

Beaches added two points on a safety touch and a single when Bobby Coulter was forced out of touch after taking Don Crowe's wide placement attempt.

Frisch Rewarded

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 1—Frankie Frisch pulled Pittsburgh's foundering Pirates into the National League first division and promised a 1941 pennant contender so the management Monday rewarded him by adding a year to his contract.

The old Fordham Flash signed for two years when he took over the driving reins last spring and now he's assured of holding out at least through 1942.

Baker Re-Hired

DETROIT, Oct. 1. — Walter O. Briggs, owner of the Detroit Baseball club, announced Monday Del Baker had signed a contract to lead the Tigers again in 1941. Salary terms were not divulged.

NO DECISION MADE ON VITT

CLEVELAND, Oct. 1—Oscar Vitt's departure Monday for his California home left the Cleveland Indians' managerial position an engima.

The Indians scattered after clinching second place in the final American League standings by outlasting Detroit here in a 14-inning 3-2 anti-climax to the pennant fight.

Vitt then went to see his boss, President Alva Bradley. He came out smiling wistfully. Asked what he was going to do, he said:

"I can't say anything about that. I understand a decision will be reached at a meeting of the club's board of directors in the next few weeks."

Most of the Indians gave Vitt a warm handshake and wished him luck. A few left without a word to the pilot whose removal they had asked in June.

Hamilton Tigers Swamp Soldiers

HAMILTON, Ont., Oct. 1. — Hamilton Tigers made their first start under the guidance of Art Massucci Saturday by defeating Camp Borden's soldier team 16-1 with a 12-point assault in the last quarter.

The Big Four Tigers had a good edge on the Ontario Rugby Football Union representatives in the first three quarters but their fumble kept the score to 4-1 for three-quarters of the game.

Ozarko and Zvonkin crossed the border line in the final quarter.

Haney Re-Engaged

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 1—The day after ending their best season in six years, St. Louis Browns of the American Baseball League Monday signed Manager Fred Haney to pilot the club again in 1941.

"We were well pleased with his job this year and I am happy to announce he will manage the Browns again," said President Donald F. Barnes. Terms of the new contract were not disclosed, except that it was for the usual one year.

The Brownies wound up the season in sixth place with 67 victories and 87 defeats.

Easterners Wreck Coast's Star Goalie

VANCOUVER, Oct. 1.—Ontario and British Columbia will fight it out Wednesday night in the fifth and deciding game of the Canadian Junior Lacrosse championship for the Minto cup but there is a decidedly eastern tinge to the odds on the series final.

After losing the first two games by scores of 16-13 and 23-21 the easterners came back to capture the next two by almost identical margins, 19-11 and again 19-12 in the fourth match last night.

The British Columbians blamed their two losses mainly on the fact their star goalie was seriously injured when crushed in the nets of Ontario's charging stickmen.

Crick was taken out of the game last Friday night after being pushed into the net and posts numerous times by the visitors and played the final quarter only after having his ribs and hips taped. He played the first three quarters of last night's affair before he was relieved.

Dave Yeadon subbed in goal but was unable to stop the last-quarter scoring spree of the visitors.

STEADY PRESSURE

The easterners played a steady passing and close-checking game throughout gradually moving ahead after the first quarter yet saving enough reserve to rush the British Columbia net and cinch victory in the final stanza.

Each squad netted three goals in the first and although the westerners went ahead 7-4 early in the second, Ontario came back with a rush in the last five minutes to pass them and end half time with an 8-7 advantage.

British Columbia again grabbed a short-lived 9-8 lead after the third quarter got underway before Tommy Madsen, Jack Gair, Bobby Goldham and Jimmy Carswell drove in successive counters to send the easterners along the victory path. Each tallied twice before the gong to leave the Ontario with a three-goal lead going into the final quarter.

GAIR LEADS

Gair, who lead his team with five goals and one assist, started the scoring two minutes after the whistle in the fourth quarter. Bill McCall picked up a loose ball at the face-off to score for British Columbia.

From then on it was Ontario's game and they held the British Columbians scoreless as they rattled four goals past Yeadon.

Johnny Hewitt and Tommy Madsen each sniped three goals for Ontario while Jimmy Lang, hero of the first game, Starred for British Columbia, also with a trio.

LINEUPS

British Columbia: Crick, goal; Eastman and McClure, defence; Shaw, Rover; Arrell, centre; Kabalow and Moody, wings. Subs: Yeadon, Riddell, Lea, McCaghey, Phillips, Lang, McCall, Nesbitt.

Ontario: Chambers, goal; McKenzie and White, defence; Cunningham, rover; Smith, centre; Gair and Goldhaam, wings. Subs: Madsen, Red Hewitt, J. Hewitt, McGill, Garriock, Carswell, Favell.

Officials: Jimmy Gunn and Harry Gilmore, both of Vancouver.

Holmes To Play

MONTREAL, Oct. 1. — George Holmes, formerly of Regina and now with the Royal Canadian Air Force here, played the quarterback position on one team Monday night as the Montreal Interprovincial Senior Rugby club prepared for the season's opener here this Saturday with Toronto Argonauts.

Holmes impressed railbirds with his confidence and precise play, although in the past he has performed on the half-line. Thirty-one players attended the drill.

TRUCKER SUES TIGER CATCHER

British United Press
Exclusive to Edmonton Bulletin

CLEVELAND, Oct. 1—Carmen Guerra, 26, short, stocky ice truck driver, has filed suit in common pleas court asking $5,000 damages from Birdie Tebbetts, Detroit Tiger's catcher, for punching and beating him last Friday at the Cleveland-Detroit baseball game.

The suit was filed in Guerra's behalf by state representative Michael P. O'Brien, who said he would ask also for a warrant for Tebbett's arrest.

Tebbetts, it was charged, struck Guerra in the belief that he was the fan who dropped a half-bushel basket of tomatoes from the upper stand into the Tiger bullpen, hitting Tebbetts on the head.

Police admitted that Guerra was a victim of mistaken identity after hearing several witnesses who said he threw nothing at the players. He was held at Central police station under $300 bond on disorderly conduct charges. He pleaded not guilty before Police Judge Louis Drucker to the charge of throwing tomatoes at the Tigers and was granted a continuance until Oct. 9.

Kootenay Loop To Three Teams

NELSON, B.C., Oct. 1. — The West Kootenay Hockey League will return to its old three-team basis, it was decided at the annual meeting of the league here Sunday, with competition between the world amateur champion Trail Smokeaters, Kimberley Dynamiters and Nelson Maple Leafs.

A plan by Mike Welykochy of Trail to enter a second team from the smelter city was withdrawn when officials of the other clubs opposed the idea. Gonzaga University of Spokane, which formed the fourth team in the circuit last season, was withdrawn.

NEWARK BEARS DEFEAT ORIOLES PLAYOFF SERIES

NEWARK, N.J., Oct. 1.—Behind the five-hit hurling of big Hank Borowy, former Fordham University star, Newark Bears defeated Baltimore Orioles 3-2 Monday night to win the International League Governor's Cup playoffs four games to three.

The Bears will meet Louisville, winners in the American Association playoffs, in the little world series.

A crowd of 5,507 saw the 22-year-old righthander pitch a brilliant game for his second victory over Baltimore in the final series and his third of the playoffs.

He spaced his five hits over as many innings, walked only one and fanned six. Baltimore's only earned run was a homer by pinch hitter Art Graham in the ninth inning.

The Bears also were limited to five hits as Orlin Collier, Oriole starter, equalled Borowy's performance for the six innings. But he weakened in the seventh and the Bears scored all their three runs in that inning.

By winning, the Bears earned first prize money of $4,000 while the Orioles wound up with $2,000, the losers' share in the Governors' cup series.

Baltimore	100 000 001—2	5	0

More Than Hundred U.S. Tanks Sold To Canada Is Report

British United Press Exclusive to Edmonton Bulletin

ROCK ISLAND, Ill., Oct. 1.—More than 100 six-ton U.S. army tanks which have been stored at the Rock Island arsenal since 1919 were loaded aboard flat cars today and were reported destined for shipment to Canada.

It was reported that Col. F. F. Worthington, Toronto, of the Canadian army, selected the tanks and closed the order for them during a visit to Rock Island last Saturday.

Col. Norman F. Ramsey, commandant at the arsenal, refused to comment on the loading of the flat cars.

The tanks, left over from World War supplies, have a speed of from four to six miles an hour and were declared obsolete by the U.S. army two years ago.

ARMY GRIDDERS PROMISE POWER

CAMP BORDEN, Ont., Oct. 1—The soldier-footballers from Camp Borden, representing the Canadian active service force, have proved themselves even before the East's season begins. They cleared up whatever doubt there was about recruiting a team from the C.A.S.F. in their first exhibition tussle Saturday.

When a hastily-gathered club, put together from a limited field of material, can hold one of the Big Four's favorites at Camp Borden held Hamilton Tigers, then they must be all right. For three-quarters the Soldiers were behind by only three points. Hamilton's 12-point splurge in the last quarter didn't detract from the performance.

Alex Hayes, who played quarterback for Sarnia Imperials for more than a decade, has shaped together a team which includes former high school stars, some juniors, a sprinkling of men who learned their football in the United States and a quarterback, Eddie Thompson, who was good enough to make the backfield of the Canadian Press all-Eastern team last season with Balmy Beach.

Thompson was the Camp Borden star against Tigers. He will call signals for the soldiers.

A regular training table has been established and Hayes has the club practising daily. The team will play two of its home games at London and the other at Toronto.

Hockey Players Get Cards Back

SHERBROOKE, Que., Oct. 1.—The Quebec Amateur Hockey Association, holding its first annual meeting outside Montreal, decided Saturday to recommend the reinstatement of Dave Trottier and Russell Blinco as amateurs. Both are former Montreal Maroon stars in the National Hockey league. Their reinstatement will be recommended to the Canadian Amateur Hockey association.

The meeting turned down the application of Jean Pusie of Chambly Basin, Que., and George Brown, formerly of Winnipeg. Pusie has had a checkered career in the N.H.L., the American association and the Pacific Coast league.

Tomatoes Used Brampton Boxla

BRAMPTON, Ont., Oct. 1. — Brampton Excelsiors, down three games in the Ontario Lacrosse Association senior finals, defeated St. Catharines Athletics 18-11 Monday night for their first win of the best of seven series.

Two fist fights, plus a shower of tomatoes, added spice to the loosely-played contest. Referee Max Peart was hit by one of the missiles and threatened to make Brampton forfeit the game unless the throwing stopped.

Brampton took an early lead and nursed it throughout the game. Arthurs of Brampton with six goals was high scorer.

The fifth game will be played at St. Catharines Wednesday.

Cleveland Says Sorry To Tigers

CLEVELAND, Oct. 1.—The city of Cleveland officially apologized to Detroit's Tigers Saturday for the fan-flung fruit barrage which interrupted the deciding game in the American league championship race Friday.

"Sincerest apologies" and congratulations upon winning the pennant were transmitted to Del Baker, Tiger manager, by Henry S. Brainard, city law director and acting mayor.

ARAB REVOLT IS AXIS PLAN SAY ITALIANS

Italy and Spain Concoct Program Trouble-Making Among Moslems

By REYNOLDS PACKARD

Exclusive Cable to Edmonton Bulletin

ROME, Oct. 1.—Authoritative Italian cources said today that Premier Benito Mussolini and Spain's envoy, Ramon Serrano Suner, today discussed a plan for raising the banner of revolt in the Arab world of Africa and Asia and mustering Arab forces against the British Empire under Italo-Spanish leadership.

A preliminary of this program for striking against the rich components of the British Empire south and east of the Mediterranean, it was said, would be satisfaction of Spain's claims to Gibraltar and French Morocco.

The Arab rebellion, these sources said, would be carried to the Moslem world under Mussolini's title of "Defender of Islam."

(Palestine Arabs recently condemned Mussolini after Italian planes had bombed Haifa, killing scores of Arabs.)

Spain, it was suggested, might play the part of intermediary between the axis and the populations of Africa.

Best sources in Rome believed that actual signing of any agreement between the axis powers and Spain would be delayed until Serrano Suner can confer with his brother-in-law, Gen. Francisco Franco, chief of the Spanish Nationalist state.

The Mussolini-Serrano Suner conference lasted an hour and 25 minutes.

It was intimated that Mussolini, Franco and Adolf Hitler might meet eventually.

British Vessels Told Keep Clear Of French Colony

VICHY, Oct. 1.—British vessels have been warned to stay outside a 50-mile zone around Madagascar, France's island colony off southeast Africa, colonial ministry sources claimed Monday night.

This, they said, was France's reply to a rejected British demand on the Governor-General, Leon Casla, that he align Madagascar with Gen. Charles De Gaulle, leader of French forces fighting with Britain, or be cut off by blockade.

Britain's blockade threat did not change the Madagascar situation, they contended, since the island's 3,000 miles of coast have been blockaded by British warships for more than two months.

LONDON, Oct. 1. — The King has awarded the George Cross to Lieut. Robert Davies, formerly of St. Catharines, Ont., and Sapper George Cameron Wylie, both of the Royal Engineers, for bravery in removing a time bomb which threatened St. Paul's Cathedral.

It was the first time the newly-created award has been granted. Yesterday the George Medal, also a new award intended for somewhat wider distribution, was conferred upon Patrick King, Northumberland air raid warden, for aiding a blind woman from her bombed home while bombs were still bursting nearby.

SPAIN WAITING 'RIGHT MOMENT' TO ENTER WAR

Believe Franco Ready For Assault Gibraltar When Hitler Gives Word

ROME, Oct. 1. — Gen. Franco's intention of keeping Spain out of the war "until the right moment" while co-operating with the axis powers was indicated today in Italian circles as his interior minister arrived here to talk with Mussolini.

The Spanish envoy, Ramon Serrano Suner, reached Rome at 10 a.m. from Germany, where he conferred with Hitler and other Nazi leaders.

Serrano Suner began his conference with Mussolini soon after his arrival.

Foreign observers said they believed Serrano Suner and Mussolini would put the final touches to an understanding defining Spain's part in an Italian-German attempt to capture Gibraltar but Fascists discounted the possibility for a formal alliance at the present time.

Il Popolo di Roma declared Spain already is "in the political system" of the axis powers and added:

"Spain's position as it will remain for the present is that of being vigilant and watchful over all that happens in the European world, ready at the opportune moment to use her rights and achieve even with arms her aspirations."

LARGE CROP IS BENEFIT SAYS MANUFACTURER

C. Gordon Cockshutt, Brantford Industrialist, Is Visitor

When this year's crop is finally disposed of, western farmers will be in a better position than they were a year ago, was the opinion of C. Gordon Cockshutt, Brantford, Ontario, president of Cockshutt Plow Co., Ltd. He was pleased with the large crop harvested.

Mr. Cockshutt arrived in Edmonton Monday night on an inspection of his company's western branches and will proceed to the coast Tuesday night. He is at the Macdonald.

Mr. Cockshutt stated in an interview that wartime industry is being rapidly organized and that big results will be seen in production in the near future.

PRODUCTION NOW

There is some production now, he said, but many industries will take a year of organization to actually begin producing armaments. The bottleneck of production, he said, is the machine tool industry.

The United States machine tool companies have refused to go into capital expansion without guarantees of sufficient contracts to amortize the capital or the capital to be supplied by governments. Their expansion to date has been mostly with British and French capital, but now the United States government is stepping in and supplying them with funds for expansion.

There is a large amount of British capital in Canada now which is at work for production of munitions and other war supplies, he said. His own company is making munitions for the Canadian government.

TRAINING MEN

Wartime industries rapidly are taking up unemployment and training many men and women to be skilled craftsmen.

Asked regarding response to military service in the east, he said, "The response in Ontario, generally, is good. Of course the government has had to advise members of militia units that they must attend parades and camps or be subject to fines, but this does not mean that there is any trouble. The militia used to be easy-going and now, for the first time, the militiamen are treated as regular soldiers. It just means that demands of the service are stricter and must be recognized."

Predicts Benefit

C. GORDON COCKSHUTT, of Brantford, Ont., president of the Cockshutt Plow Co., Ltd., who predicted here Tuesday that when this year's crop is finally disposed of western farmers will be in a better financial position than they were a year ago.

Through The Mill

Through the purple haze of evening,
Came the maidens bent on battle,
And their lusty shouts and warcries,
Filled the air with frightful rattle.

But such clamor proved a tattle,
Bringing bluecoats to the battle,
Who said, "Cease this foolish prattle,
"One would think you folks were cattle."

But these splendid words of counsel
Went unheeded in the fight,
And the battle waged more fiercely,
In the dim and waning light.

Till the bluecoats seized the maidens
And with haste and strength unflagging.
Placed both bruised and bleeding maidens
In the dark and gloomy wagon.

A couple of Longfellow's children of the plains became involved in a fracas on 101 street Monday night and in the battle the two staged, the air was filled with the shrill warcries of the two combatants, according to the story told by a police officer in police court Tuesday morning.

Both women pleaded not guilty to creating a disturbance. One told the court the other woman had called her bad names so she had to hit her.

The second accused admitted part of the accusation and said: "I wasn't going to let her do all the swearing, so I swore back at her."

The first accused, who seemed most wronged, was fined $3 and costs with the option of five days in jail. The second was fined $5 and costs with the alternative of seven days in jail.

POLICY STARTS IMPROVE GRADE ALBERTA SHEEP

Furthering its policy of improving the quality of Alberta livestock, the department of Agriculture is initiating a "ram exchange policy," it was announced Tuesday by Hon. D. B. Mullen, minister of agriculture.

The policy provides for removal of undesirable sires in exchange for approved purebred rams, removal of inferior or undesirable ewes and assistance to farmers who are in need of a purebred ram of good quality but have no sires or off-type ewes to exchange.

"It is felt that this policy will be of material benefit during this wartime emergency in assisting farmers to secure a higher grade of livestock, which will be reflected in the improved quality of both the lamb carcass and the fleece. War conditions have created an abnormal demand for wool."

The department of agriculture now has exchange policies for cattle, sheep and swine.

ALBERTA TO LEAD CANADA IN HOG TRADE

Canada Packers' Official Makes Prediction On Visit Here

Prediction that Alberta next year will become the leading hog producing province in Canada was made by J. Stanley McLean, president, Canada Packers, Ltd., who arrived in Edmonton Monday in the course of a trans-Canada inspection tour.

Mr. McLean stated that during the past year hog production in Alberta had increased 50 per cent, and it was anticipated that a further 50 per cent. increase would be achieved during 1941.

SOLE SOURCE

Canada is now the sole source of bacon for the British market, he stated, and during the past three months an increase of 3,000,000 weekly on the quota has been asked for by the British authorities. The British bacon quota set by the bacon agreement was 5,600,000 weekly, so therefore during the last two months Canada has been shipping 8,600,000 pounds weekly to the Old Country market.

Mr. McLean was hopeful that this higher quota would be maintained when the new agreement now in process of negotiation was completed. Canada's present hog population, he said, was capable of meeting this demand.

Canadian bacon exports to Britain are now the highest in history, he added, and it behooved the industry in Canada to see to it that the quality of bacon is of a type that will make it popular with the British people, so that when the war is over and markets which formerly supplied the British market are re-established they will maintain imports from Canada.

PRICE BOOSTED

He considered the quota allotment for export cattle to the United States, and the lowering of duty by one-and-a-half cents had added $15 a head to the price of Canadian cattle.

The system of rail grading of hogs recently introduced by the federal government will permit the industry to satisfy British taste in bacon, stated Mr. McLean. That market demands sides between 55 and 65 pounds, and the hog grading system will enable packers to give premiums to shippers coming within the Wiltshire class. He said that only 45 per cent of hogs marketed in Canada came within the class at present.

General business throughout Canada was active, he stated, and more activity would soon be apparent as the great munition plants now in course of construction worked into production.

Mr. McLean will leave for eastern Canada Tuesday evening.

ACCUSED GIVEN ONE-YEAR TERM FORGERY COUNT

Found guilty in supreme court on a charge of uttering a cheque for $50, proceeds of a burglary at Macdonald's Consolidated Ltd., Konrad Fritz, alias Fraser, Vancouver, was sentenced to serve one year in Fort Saskatchewan jail by Mr. Justice T. M. Tweedie on Monday.

He was found guilty also of retaining possession of the cheque and forging an endorsement thereon. He received the same sentence on these charges, all to run concurrently.

Alex. Davis, teller, Bank of Montreal, told the court he cashed the cheque for Fritz, and within an hour of cashing police had informed him the cheque had been stolen.

Mr. Davis picked the accused out of an identification parade at the R.C.M.P. barracks, and was positive in his identification of Fritz as the man who passed the cheque.

One previous conviction, for theft, figures on Fritz's police record read to the court by Crown Prosecutor J. W. McClung, K.C.

$3,000 DONATED FOR BLIND WORK OFFICER SAYS

Nearing the half-way mark in their annual campaign for funds, in aid of their philanthropic work in northern Alberta, the district branch of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind has received approximately $3,000 in donations, D. M. Macalister, president of the branch, reported Tuesday. Objective of the fund is $7,000.

Mr. Macalister stated Tuesday that the campaign would continue for another month. The drive for funds takes place only once a year, and during the campaign funds are collected for an entire year's work among the blind people in Edmonton and Northern Alberta.

Proceeds of the recent tag-day amounted to $1,034, Mr. Macalister said. A special campaign office used for the drive headquarters is located in the ground floor of the Agency Building, where a display of blindcraft is being shown.

Thousands Cheer When Militiamen Return From Camp

Just two short weeks ago they marched down Jasper avenue to the C.P.R. station in uniforms that were as green as the wearers; their feet dragged, eyes roved and heads bobbed in unsoldierly fashion.

Last night about 400 of them marched up Jasper avenue from the C.P.R. station, uniforms bleached to Palm Beach whiteness, in perfect step, the long columns swinging along with feet and right arms moving with mechanical rhythm and with a lethal forest of bayonets flashing in the evening sun.

No longer did feet drag, no longer did eyes rove and undisciplined hands wave to relatives and friends. The men that marched with zest and verve up Jasper avenue Monday evening were soldiers that looked as if they were ready and eager to defend Canada against any danger at any time and place.

LIVING CORRIDOR

Cheered by thousands who formed a living corridor on Jasper avenue along the line of march, units of the Second 49th Battalion, Edmonton Regiment, and the Second Battalion Edmonton Fusiliers (M.G.), returned from a fortnight of training at Sarcee camp, bronzed and rawhide lean.

With the remainder of their respective units, about 300 men, who had completed training two weeks' previously, forming a welcoming guard of honor, the trainees rolled into the C.P.R. station shortly before 6 p.m. There the band of the Second 49th Battalion, Edmonton Regiment, paid a high tribute by playing as a welcoming number the ever-stirring British Grenadiers.

Forming in column of march with smoothness and dispatch, the returning troops, with the Fusiliers (M.G.) led by Lt. Col. Jamieson, officer commanding, heading the parade, swung eastward from the depot.

Then followed the Forty-Ninth, led by Lt. Col. R. Walter Hale, M.C., officer commanding.

DETRAIN ON SOUTH SIDE

Returning members of the 19th Alberta Dragoons left the train at the South Side and marched to Connaught Armories for dismissal. The 96th Battery of the R.C.A. and a party of the 13th District Signals (W.T.) marched with the larger non-permanent units.

At 104 street the militiamen gave the salute to Brig. C. E. Connolly, D.S.O., officer commanding Military District No. 13, who stood in a temporary reviewing stand on the south side of Jasper Avenue with Lt.-Col. E. Brown, M.M., E.D., area commandant.

Marching with just a trifle more pride than the rest of the troops was "C" platoon of the Edmonton Fusiliers, which Sunday won the Brigadier's platoon trophy for smartness and efficiency in competition with 14 other military units at Sarcee Camp.

The platoon, led by Lt. Allan MacLean and with Sgt. Ken Duggan clutching the handsome silver cup, received a big hand from the thousands lining Jasper Avenue.

Stirring martial strains by the Edmonton Regiment and Edmonton Fusiliers bands and a bugle band gave an audible atmosphere of triumph to the procession. Such old military favorites as "Colonel Bogey" and "Bonnie Dundee," regimental march of the Forty-Niners, were played with the spirit that only military bands can attain.

LEAFLETS DROPPED

Airplanes loosing bombing fund leaflets from overhead added a thrilling realism to the warlike setting.

At Jasper Avenue and 101 street, the Edmonton Regiment, 96th Battery and Signallers, turned north to the Prince of Wales Armories, while the Fusiliers turned south and then west to the Victoria Armories and dismissal.

At Red Deer, Lacombe and Wetaskiwin, where parties of the Fusiliers detrained for their homes, parades were held through the streets of the respective cities and towns, with the Edmonton units taking part with bayonets fixed.

The troop train left Calgary at 10:30 a.m., arriving here at 5:30 p.m.

PRESENTATION

When the Fusiliers returned to their armories, they formed up on 106 street and Col. Jamieson presented Fus. E. Edwards with a stick as a souvenir of his appointment at camp as the colonel's orderly. The appointment was made as a recognition of his selection as smartest appearing soldier in the sergeant's guard.

The Colonel then presented Bugler Cpl. J. "Scotty" Munro with the bugle which he has played for 12 years as orderly bugler with the Fusiliers. Cpl. Munro was leaving the regiment to take a post in active service.

The platoon which won the efficiency cup at camp then gave a demonstration of arms drill.

Man Loses Part Of Ear In Desperate Battle: Court Hears The Story

Stern ancient law of "an eye for an eye" has been brought up to date and amplified to read "an ear for a squeeze," according to the story unfolded in police court Tuesday during hearing of a charge of assault causing bodily harm against Walter Bukash, Thorhild truck driver.

According to the evidence of Jack Turcott, manager of a 102 street service station, accused called him some bad names and witness struck him. Then a long and desperate fight, said to have lasted three quarters of an hour, ensued. At one stage of the scrap, when Turcott was holding Bukash on the ground, the latter closed his teeth on Turcott's ear, completely severing the top half of that organ.

Then police had arrived and Turcott was taken to hospital.

Const. Dick proved the unsung hero of the case by showing the presence of mind to pick up the amputated section of the ear, wrap it in paper and take it to the hospital.

SCIENCE AIDS

Then medical science came to the aid of the injured man and completed the fine work of the constable.

Dr. Miller, who was treating Turcott, said he thought of tying up the ear stump and letting nature take its course when he noticed the portion of ear, covered with dust and grime, on the table.

"I didn't think there was much chance of success but I thought I would try to make the repair, so I cleaned off the ear and stitched it back into place," the doctor testified. "The operation was a partial success. The top part of the ear did not heal but the lower part did," Dr. Miller stated.

Asked if he were sure it was the same piece of ear that had been allegedly chewed off, the doctor replied: "Well, it was a perfect fit."

Turcott told the court that Bukash had calmly informed bystanders that he had bitten off the former's ear. "He spat out the ear and said: 'There goes his ear boys'," Turcott said.

BREAKS HOLD

Bukash admitted closing his teeth on Turcott's ear but stated he had done so because the latter had a punishing hold on a vital part of his anatomy and it was a last desparate measure on his part to break the hold.

Louis Friedman is conducting the defence and the case is continuing.

PROGRESS FOR WELFARE WORK IS REVEALED

Council Of Social Agencies Meets—New Members Welcomed

Progress reports on the work of the various branches of the Council of Social Agencies were made at a meeting of the executive committee of the Council, in the Macdonald hotel Monday afternoon. John M. Imrie presided at the meeting.

Three new members, E. E. Roper, W. W. Prevey and Harvey Harrison, were welcomed to the executive, and regret was expressed that Miss Agnes McLeod, now serving with the Overseas Nursing, and Lieut. Joel K. Smith, former secretary who has enlisted, would not be able to continue on the executive.

WELFARE BUREAU

J. G. Nickerson reported on the work of the family welfare bureau of the Council, and the family welfare division. The division is made up of 18 agencies associated with the Council. Study of social problems in the city is being investigated by the bureau, and assistance being given to an increasingly large number of specific cases in the city, he said.

A report on housing and nutrition was presented by Dr. Mildred Newell, chairman of the health division, and Miss Thomson reported on the group work division activities, in the absence of Mr. Martin, chairman. Courses in leadership will be given through the division in the near future she said. Miss Thomson also reported on the social service and the general work of the director.

WAR SERVICES

Mr. Imrie presented a report on the co-ordination council for war services, as it concerns the Council of Social Agencies. Report on the child welfare division was given by Dr. H. E. Smith, chairman, who stated that child delinquency was being investigated in the city, prior to the formation of a constructive program.

The Inquiring Reporter

THE QUESTION

Should entertainment and social programs be curtailed this fall because of the war?

THE ANSWERS

EDITH SYKES, secretary: I don't see any reason why they should be curtailed. I think that entertainments should be increased. Benefit shows for war-work funds and special programs for soldiers should be given this fall, and the program added to, rather than curtailed.

* * *

MRS. THOMAS TAYLOR, clubwoman: Unless the entertainment is for some specific war-work fund, I think that the program of parties and the like should be stopped altogether. We should carry on in every way we can to raise funds for war-work, but the casual afternoon tea parties and such should be stopped altogether.

* * *

J. R. PATENAUDE, clerk: Parties should not be stopped, because of the war. We can augment war-work funds through benefit affairs, and should go out of our way to provide entertainment for the fighting forces stationed in Edmonton. Also the entertainment program provides a release, if temporary, from the war tension and certainly serves a purpose in that way.

EGYPT FORBIDS COTTON CARGOES GOING TO JAPAN

British United Press Exclusive Cable To The Edmonton Bulletin

CAIRO, Oct. 1.—An order was issued today forbidding shipment to Japan of a quantity of Egyptian cotton lying in Alexandria harbor ready for transport to the Far East.

The action apparently was taken in retaliation against Japan for her signing of the Berlin-Rome-Tokyo military alliance.

It was the first objective step in retaliation to be taken by the British Empire, so far as was known.

The cotton was part of last year's Egyptian crop. It had been baled and stored in Alexandria ready for shipment to the Far East.

Japan has been largely dependent upon Egypt for a supply of long staple cotton which is used in munitions manufacture. It had been speculated here that authorities might cut off Japan's supply of this vital war material in retaliation for the tri-partite alliance.

Similar types of American cotton might be used as a substitute but are more expensive. It also was pointed out here that the United States might take parallel action and ban such exports as a further move against the Japanese military machine.

Navy Patrol

BALBOA, C.Z., Oct. 1—Giant United States navy patrol bombers simulating a European and Asiatic coalition, "attacked" the Panama canal with imaginary bombs Monday night. For the purposes of the manoeuvre the attacking "black" force as assumed to have taken off from footholds established on the northeastern coast of south America. They flew in from the sea on the Atlantic side and streaked across the mountains to the Pacific entrance.

SOLIDARITY OF BOTH AMERICAS U. S. BEST HOPE

By FRED BAILEY
United Press Staff Correspondent
Exclusive to Edmonton Bulletin

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 1.—Henry A. Wallace, Democratic vice presidential candidate, warned today that recent international developments have created "every prospect of co-ordinated moves against this hemisphere by a unified Europe and a unified Asia."

He said the challenge can be met only by solidarity of the Americas—North, South and Central.

Ruthless, [illegible] and [illegible] [illegible] governments of Europe and Asia are looking on this hemisphere with greedy eyes, Wallace told the San Francisco Center of the League of Women Voters.

"As long as there was a balance of power in Europe and Asia, there was no real cause for us to fear," he said. "Our Monroe Doctrine could be maintained on both coasts with a small fleet.

"Now that balance of power in Europe and Asia has been rudely disturbed there is every prospect of co-ordinated moves against this hemisphere by a unified Europe and a unified Asia.

"We recognize that prompt and complete preparedness is the price of peace. This preparedness does not consist merely of building battleships and of increasing our army. It does not consist merely of fortifying the naval and air bases which the president's [illegible] strategy has put under our control.

"But our preparedness more than all else, [illegible] the confidence and faith which the Americas must have in each other.

"The solidarity of the Americas is [illegible] [illegible] in the arch of our preparedness and our peace."

REGINA, Oct. 1—The P.F.R.A. organization has completed a [illegible] survey of the streams and rivers of agricultural Manitoba during the past two weeks as a preliminary measure [illegible] projects for the construction of irrigation projects in that province, it was announced by John Vallance, superintendent of water development of P.F.R.A.

Similar surveys of the flowing waters of Saskatchewan and Alberta were made a year ago by the old reclamation branch of the department of the interior, but for some reason no such survey was ever made of the streams and rivers of Manitoba.

Martin Says Few Rental Increases Are Justifiable

OTTAWA, Oct. 1—Mr Justice W. M. Martin, rental administrator of the wartime prices and trade board, said Monday "It will require very special circumstances to justify an increase in housing rentals above what prevailed on January 2 and, in the great majority of cases which have so far been submitted, an increase is not warranted."

Mr Justice Martin will leave today for Barrie, Ont., Parry Sound, Ont., and Brandon, Man., where war training or war industry have taxed housing accommodation and rentals have increased. He will conduct a series of hearings in areas affected by the rent-pegging order issued by the board September 24.

The announcement said "As a result of these powerful reinforcements, the defences of Malaya have been greatly strengthened."

Japan Warplanes Damage Property In Kunming Raid

KUNMING, Yannan Province, China, Sept. 30—Twenty-seven Japanese warplanes bombed this city of southwest China today, causing extensive damage to British missionary property and French buildings.

Kunming is the Chinese terminus of the Indo-China Railway which the Japanese hope to use in an assault on southwest China.

HIGH HONOR IS PRESENTED TO AIR MARSHAL

LONDON, Oct. 1—One of Britain's highest orders was bestowed Monday night on Air Chief Marshal Sir Hugh Dowding, chief of the Royal Air Force Fighter Command which has played the foremost role in the defence of Britain against Nazi airpower.

The King made him a Knight Grand Cross of the Military Division of the Order of the Bath.

Sir Hugh Caswall Tremenheere Dowding is a tall, [illegible] Scotsman referred to as "Stuffy" by his junior officers who idolize him.

It was through his insistence that the British air council put eight synchronized machine-guns on British fighter planes, twice as many as Nazi fighters carry. This has been an important factor in British air superiority in daylight battle.

He also sponsored the idea to place the cockpit in Hurricane planes behind the engine where the pilot would have the most protection. And on his own initiative he worked for a year with a firm of glass manufacturers until a pilot's windshield that would withstand machine gun bullets was developed.

He was a member of the Royal Flying Corps in the last war and at 58 still flies his own plane. His only son is a pilot in the R.A.F.

A slender figure in blue, Sir Hugh paces most of his time in headquarters directing his fighter pilots by radio. By means of a complex telephone system he knows the position of every bomber that comes over the country and he directs the defence.

School Children Refuse To Salute Flag Are Expelled

HAMILTON, Ont., Oct. 1—Board of Education officials said Monday night the [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] public school pupils refusing to take part in patriotic exercises here indicated possibility of an organized effort to force reversal of a board order that such children be suspended from attendance at classes.

Total number of suspensions was 24 last night after two children Monday were barred from classes because they would not sing the national anthem or salute the flag.

COLEMAN, Alta, Oct. 1. — The school board of this southwestern Alberta town has expelled three students of one family from West Coleman school because they refused to salute the British flag.

After the dismissals last week school officials were informed by the pupils' father that the refusal of the children to salute the flag was due to their religious faith.

Golf balls first were made of horsehide cases stuffed with feathers.

Prime Minister Ever Faithful To His Walking Stick

LONDON, Oct. 1—Prime Minister Churchill is as unfailingly faithful [illegible] [illegible] as his predecessor, Neville Chamberlain, was to that famous umbrella.

But Mr. Churchill is noted for his [illegible] wardrobe of hats of many kinds, so the canes seldom achieve the notice they deserve.

St. John Ambulance Society Reports Large Increase In Membership Due To War

OTTAWA, Oct. 1.—Fully 500,000 Canadian men and women are qualified first aiders holding St. John Ambulance certificates and higher awards, said the Commandery Commissioner, Col. A. E. Snell, at national headquarters, Ottawa, in a survey of the year's work.

In the past year 50,029 persons have qualified for first aid and home nursing [illegible] of 20,026 over the corresponding period of the previous year.

War has brought changes and given an impetus to the Ambulance Association's activities. Eight thousand more women have taken home nursing courses than last year.

Personnel of the Air Raid Precaution Units which have been operating in the maritime provinces since the beginning of the war hold certificates for the special courses given by the association. A similar organization, the Civilian Defence Committee, which has been set up more recently in other provinces stipulates the same qualifications.

FOR SABOTAGE

"Not that we are expecting air-raids [illegible] we give a certain amount of instruction upon the latter subject," said Col. Snell. [illegible] railways [illegible]

A survey of the work shows that on the whole more men than women avail themselves to the St. John Association services. Many factories, mining companies, the railways and telephone companies now insist that their men be qualified and pay the fees for their training.

She carried Sweetheart roses and sweet peas in her bouquet. Attending her sister, Miss Carleen Brunker, chose a pretty frock in peach taffeta with tiny bolero. She carried a sheaf of gladioli.

Mr. Walter Huntingford was best man. Guests were ushered to their places by Mr. Colin Hannah and Mr. Leroy Car[illegible]

Beauty After Forty

By EDYTH THORNTON McLEOD

Accessories For Beauty

If your hair is gray, accentuate it by wearing gray pearl necklace and earrings of the same shade. Silver jewelry, amethysts, emeralds and sapphires also are good.

Make-up and accessories dramatize gray or white hair. They should be selected in complementary tones. Also, gray or white hair needs special skin. You can make your hair your greatest asset by choosing the correct shades in make-up. Your face powder must be of deeper tone than your skin so that it may set off your hair by contrast.

If you are a brunette with dark eyes, use powder in one of the Rachel shades. If you have delicate skin tones and blue eyes, then choose powder with a rose undertone. Either dark or blue eyes are complemented by all shades of blue as costume shades. It seems to perfectly highlight the hair. Rich reds with blue undertone are flattering. And, of course, the plum and wine shades do things for your hair, skin and figure.

If your hair is a rich gray, try dramatizing it by wearing a matching shade of gray. Wear gray pearls; the new synthetic ones are divine. Wear gray pearl button earrings. Powder of depth and brilliance. Either faint green or purple eyeshadow. Rouge and lipstick in a deep rose-red. You will have smartness-plus!

Silver jewelry, amethysts, emeralds, sapphires, either real or synthetic, will add a great deal to any costume. Of course, pearls are always in good taste and always in fashion. Complement amethysts by using purple eyeshadow over the eyes. Match green eyeshadow to emeralds; blue to sapphires. Use just a touch, smoothing the shadow on up toward the eyebrows. Never, never use it beneath the eyes.

Make-up is an accessory and you must select it just as you select other accessories, to accent, to match exactly or to harmonize with your costume. Mature women noted for their good taste usually wear very simple basic dresses. They have several changes in accessories, they do not depend upon one shade of lipstick to wear with everything. They know the value of cleverly accessorizing their wardrobe. And, too, because of this they can live well within their budget. Bags, jewelry, belts, gloves need not be expensive but they should be selected to suit your individual type as well as the clothes you wear. We all know the unhappy sight of the large woman with a little handbag. The small type of bag will never be right for her; rather should she choose a large, soft, crushable bag to carry casually under the arm. Matching bag and gloves are smart. Keep away from too many spots of color, such as bag, gloves and hat in one shade. The hat should match the costume as should the shoes. This will make a better balance of color.

Watch yourself; Don't, for instance, indulge your love of having the newest thing unless it is becoming to you. Bright red gloves might be very smart but they are not for you. Soft pastel shades would be more flattering.

Your handbags and gloves should "type" you. And do not acquire any old shade or size just because it happens to be a reigning style.

Often you have a dress that just hangs in your cupboard. That dress is costly because you are not wearing it. Accessorize it smartly with costume jewelry, gloves, bag and new make-up. It will add a new interest to your wardrobe and your appearance!

Minute Make-Ups

Those who have sensitive skins easily irritated may find a sponge and a bland soap beneficial for daily cleansing. Soap rubbed on a small size sponge is easily lathered and may be as conveniently used on the "corners" as a washcloth. Don't neglect your neck in your cleansing treatment. Be sure, too, if your skin is sensitive to squeeze out the sponge in lukewarm water and finally in cold water for a final rinse.

Sponges come in a great many sizes and many textures. You can tell the quality or the softness by the feel. Handle a number of sponges before you make up your mind as to a suitable one. A sponge for bathing the body should be fairly coarse, but a face sponge is usually soft even when dry and when wet as smooth as velvet.

Your Baby And Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

The time to begin new foods is early in the baby's first year. Not only does the child profit nutritionally by the addition of solid foods to the diet, but he becomes used to new tastes and different textures, even before he needs the foods for their nutrition.

This last is important. If a mother knows that her baby must have a food, she'll be much more calm and poised when he spits it out, if she knows that she has time to take such behaviour in her stride. And children are suspicious of new flavors. They dislike the feel of grainy or slippery or lumpy foods on the tongue. They may spit out a new food for none of these reasons but only because having been used to liquid foods they treat solid ones with the same kind of tongue-motion and willy-nilly out goes the food.

TOO MUCH FLUID

The following is the exaggerated result when a child has had fluid foods for too long. Mrs. W. F. says she has taken a two-year-old child to board. "The child is still on evaporated milk and won't touch fresh milk. She eats all strained foods but no chopped foods. She won't take baked potatoes or meats. She could keep a bite in her mouth for an hour, unless she is made to spit it out. She will eat soup unless it has something in it. Is evaporated milk too rich for her? Can you help me with her eating?"

The strained foods have been continued so long that the child feels that this is the way foods should be. She hasn't learned to chew. Try to make an amusing game of this and all of you show her in an exaggerated way how she should move her teeth up and down in a chewing motion. Make the food appetizing to look at, cut it in very small pieces, be satisfied if she takes only a teaspoonful of the new food. Try to add a little of the coarser food to each portion of the strained food. Put fresh, crisp pieces of celery or strips of carrot or turnip on her plate to tempt her to try them.

Perhaps if you let her mash and salt and butter her own vegetables she would find them more interesting to consume. The evaporated milk is less rich than fresh milk, its color being due to its processing and the even distribution of cream throughout the milk. If she has sufficient fruit juices daily, you can continue this indefinitely.

Our leaflet on "Foods for Young Children" may suggest some ideas you've overlooked. To get a copy send your request with a three-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope to Mrs. Eldred of the Your Baby and Mine department in care of this newspaper.

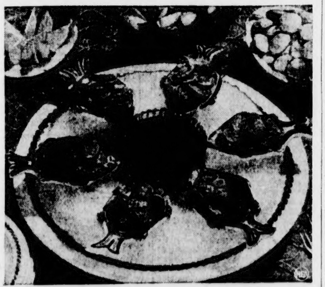
Mushrooms Are Popular Item In Luncheon Plans



Canned mushrooms with chili sauce.

By MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX

The party season begins and hostesses look for something festive. Mushrooms belong in the party menu.

CANNED PICKLED MUSHROOMS

Put one cup mild vinegar (wine or cider) in saucepan; add 2 tablespoons sugar, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 bay leaf, small bag of pickling spices, and contents of 1 can (8 ounces) sliced mushrooms (both liquid and mushrooms). Bring to a boil. Cool.

Serve whole on toothpicks for canapes, or chopped finely, spread on plain or toasted rounds of white, rye or whole-wheat bread or salted crackers, and served as appetizers.

For the first bridge luncheon of the season serve stuffed mushrooms. Fresh mushrooms are reasonable now and with a little fixing you'll have a magnificent entree.

STUFFED MUSHROOMS

(Serves 4)

Twenty-four fresh mushrooms, 3 tablespoons finely chopped bread crumbs, 3 tablespoons cream, 3 tablespoons butter, 1 egg yolk (slightly beaten), 1 tablespoon finely chopped fresh parsley, 1 teaspoon finely minced onion.

Peel mushrooms and remove the stems. Scrape stems and chop well. Mix chopped stems with all the other ingredients into a moist stuffing.

If not moist enough, add a little stock. Arrange mushrooms, stuffed side up, in shallow glass baking dish with a little stock. Sprinkle lightly with buttered bread crumbs. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees F.) for about 12 minutes. Serve with triangles of hot buttered toast.

Creamed mushrooms is always rated as a real dish. Use heavy cream, butter, salt and pepper and nothing else for luxury results. Peel mushrooms and scrape stems. Slice. Simmer in hot butter for 10 minutes, then all heavy cream. Simmer until cream bubbles and thickens. Season lightly. Serve on triangles of thin dry toast, pouring cream over the mushrooms.

Tomorrow's Menu

Breakfast: Applesauce, fried scrapple, corn bread, coffee, milk.

Luncheon: Tomato juice, creamed mushrooms, toast, grape bowl, tea, milk.

Dinner: Pickled mushroom appetizers, stuffed shoulder of veal, gravy, mashed potatoes, baked squash, lettuce and green pepper salad, steamed orange marmalade pudding, foamy sauce, coffee, milk.

Fats Rationed

ROME, Oct 1.—Cooking fats were rationed Monday for the first time in Italy. The monthly allotment will be 800 grams, or 28 ounces. Each person will be allowed a half-litre of oil, which is slightly less than one pint, each month, plus 10 ounces of butter, lard or suet. Necessities already rationed include sugar and laundry soap.

Your Figure, Madame!

By IDA JEAN KAIN

The designers certainly do not show off their beautiful clothes on lassies who look as wholesome as a bowl of oatmeal! They put them on creatures who are so svelte it doesn't seem likely they eat regularly. But the most noticeable feature of their slimness is the waistline—there doesn't seem to be a waist among them as large as 26 inches!

A model's figure is literally her fortune, and she keeps trimmed down much too fine for the average woman. But that small waist is something to copy! An excess of four to six inches bundled about the waist doesn't make you any healthier—and it is the ruination of your girlish figure.

The mannequins' rule of "not eating, dessert, ever," would cut the calories enough to take the average waist down a noticeable notch. But for a waist that is enviably trim you will have to exercise. If you halfway do them, today's calisthenics will take half an inch off your waistline in a week. And if you are willing to do a thorough job of exercising, you can stretch it to an inch in a week!

Stretching, twisting and bending are the exercise movements that get these quick results. Begin with the following stretch and twist:

Position—Sit on the floor with the legs straight out and wide apart. Pull up with the midriff muscles and hold the arms straight out at the sides.

Movement — Twirl at the waist and try to touch the right hand to the left toes, twirl again, and try to touch left hand to right toes. Keep the hips on the floor and the legs still. Repeat 15 times.

Now, flop over on your back and relax before going on with the good work.

Position—The same, except that the arms are stretched high overhead.

Movement—Keeping the spine in a straight line, twist the waist to the left, then bend acutely to the right, slowly lowering the trunk over the outstretched right leg. Straighten up and repeat in the other direction. In bending the trunk, do not let the head thrust forward. It is easier to keep the head up if arms are pressed against the ears. Repeat the exercise 10 times, alternating sides.

Lie back on the floor and let go with all your muscles. Stay there until you get your breath back, then finish with this side-stretch:

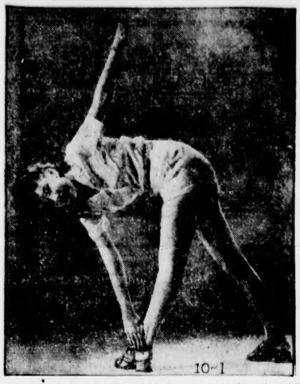
Movement—Stretch the right arm high, and bend slowly but forcibly leftward until the right hand also rests on top of the chest of drawers. That is really streaching! The important thing in this exercise is to keep the hips still—don't let them jut out as you bend; make the waistline muscles do the work. After you have repeated five times on the left side, turn about and repeat on the right.



The trick in slimming the waist is to concentrate the action at the waistline, as in the stretch-twist-bend exercise shown by Gale Storm, promising screen newcomer.

What To Do

A man with whom I have been corresponding for some time lives in another city, and has invited me to visit him and stay with one of his sisters. I have never met the sister. I don't want to offend the man, but unless I receive an invitation from his sister I plan to stay at a sotel. Don't you think I am right? PERPLEXED.

Answer—You are quite right to think you should go to a hotel unless you receive an invitation from the man's sister. The man certainly can't be annoyed that you should not want to go to a perfect stranger's house unless you were sure you would be welcome. If he had talked over your coming visit with his sister and she had written a warm invitation and you ignored it and then went to a hotel he might justifiably feel hurt. However, if there is still time for an invitation from the sister, then accept it, and if the visit is pleasant stay on as long as you are in the city. However, if conditions are not agreeable, you might make the excuse of having things to do at home and shorten up your visit.

PEACE OFFENSIVES ARE NOT FOR PEACE
10-1

One of the most effective propaganda devices is the so-called "peace offensive", as pointed out in the clarifying book, "War Propaganda and the United States," by Harold Levine and James Wechsler. Kaiser Wilhelm launched a "peace offensive" move after taking Bucharest in 1916, and Hitler did the same thing after taking Warsaw in 1939. Such announcements are intended to leave the impression that continuance of the war is desired by the opponents. However, the peace offensive is really a disguised form of victory drive, for it means peace-at-our-terms or not at all. Many "non-aggression pacts" have the same propaganda value.

The earth gets less than a two-billionth part of the energy radiated by the sun.

Dorothy Dix Says:

Dear Miss Dix—We have been engaged almost seven years. We have not wanted a long engagement, but up to now it has seemed necessary. Here is the set-up: My mother has been a widow for many years. Now she is old and rapidly losing her eyesight. I am her whole support. The man is an only child. His mother is also a widow, but she has a good position and lives with a sister. I think my fiance and I owe it to ourselves to go ahead and get married and have our youth together. I want to marry and for him to move into my home and help take care of Mother, as I do not see how we can leave her.

He says it is not fair to his mother for him to leave her alone with her sister. Also, that she would be unhappy because she would have to take the street car to work every day, while now he takes her in his car. My own mother is 70 and his mother is in her fifties. My mother is practically blind. His mother is well. On top of that she has a job. My mother has nothing except what I give her. With both of our jobs we can easily make a go of it, and later on when his mother needs us we can take care of her, as both of us have jobs with good prospects for the future. As an alternative, he proposes an illicit relationship.

I don't want that. I couldn't be happy on such an unsatisfactory foundation. He thinks I am not taking the right attitude toward it. What shall we do? Go ahead and get married and work out each problem as we come to it—break up entirely and stop day dreaming—or live together without benefit of clergy? WHAT TO DO.

Answer—I think that if your fiance really loves you and wants to marry you he will do it, even if it involves going to live with a mother-in-law. After all, mothers-in-law are not bloody ogres who eat up poor little helpless sons-in-law, and while he might prefer to have you to himself, if presented with the alternative of mother-in-law or no wife, he would take the mother-in-law if he wanted the wife badly enough.

Surely, if he has any real affection for you he will appreciate the cruel position in which you are placed and see that it would not be possible for you to forsake your poor blind mother in her hour of need. A man who would ask that of a girl shows that he is selfish and lacks even common human sympathy.

My guess is that he is trying to crawl out of the engagement. He doesn't intend to marry you, in my opinion, and that is why he suggests an illicit relationship. Don't let him persuade you into one, because when a man proposes that to a girl he is serving notice on her that he has no intention of binding himself to her, and that he is already determined to leave her when he gets tired of her.

I should say that your daydream is over, and that the wisest thing for you is to wake up. Certainly, I shouldn't think you would have to look far to kind a kinder man and one more likely to make you happy. DOROTHY DIX.

Walk-Rite's "MARCH of FASHION"

THE AZTEC MYSTERY

—By Murray Leinster

BEGIN HERE TODAY

SONNY HOLMAN, believing he has been defrauded of the Aztec mine, takes to holding up the mine's payrolls. JANET LAURIER, daughter of the man who holds legal title to the Aztec, comes to Moleville in an effort to stop Holman's activities.

TILFORD, mine superintendent and a crook, tells her Sonny is at the bottom of numerous ore thefts. Janet is kidnapped by GARCIA'S gang, a band of desperadoes and Sonny rescues her. To his surprise, he learns that the girl thinks he is in league with the kidnappers. She vows to have him jailed for stealing ore.

Tilford announces his candidacy for sheriff. Sonny, backed by the retiring sheriff, decides to run under the name of John Doe. Garcia's men run off some cattle and Sonny, riding in pursuit, is cornered by some of Jane's mine guards. He escapes, but his horse is shot. Janet has the horse doctored, intending to give it back and at the same time plead with Holman to leave the country. Tilford apparently falls in with her plan, but in reality schemes to deliver Janet over to Garcia.

Janet finds Sonny, just as Garcia's men close in on Holman's hiding place.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XIX

SMOKE drifted back to her, and Sonny's gun spat viciously from time to time. She could hear the firing outside and once a ricochet came whizzing within to fall spent at her feet.

"Y' all right, ma'am?" asked Sonny after a little. He was crouched close beside the cavern opening, a grimly alert figure, firing when he saw a chance at a target. But there were few chances now. The Mexicans outside were in hiding behind the boulders of the rockslide.

"Yes," said Janet summoning her courage.

Sonny slipped away from his sentry post and went to a dark heap on the floor. He raced back with a repeating rifle and a belt of carriages. "I can hold 'em off easy till dark," he said briefly. "Then we'll see."

"My mine guards will be here before then," said Janet. "They'll drive these men away and take me back to Moleville."

"Maybe," said Sonny obscurely. "I'm kinda losin' my temper with that Tilford feller. How they followin' your trail?"

"Liver and aniseed," confessed Janet miserably, "boiled together. Gunpowder's hoofs were soaked in it. We thought he would find his way here and dogs could follow the scent."

Sonny fired the rifle and snapped the empty shell out of the chamber. "Yes, ma'am?" he queried grimly. "The idea bein' that you was to come an' argue with me an' hold me in talk while they was to follow yuh with dogs? A right bright idea, ma'am. Only Garcia was most suspicious wise. Who tipped him off?"

"I was going to give you your chance of getting away," protested Janet, desperately anxious to be believed. "Truly. But if I—if you were in such a position that I could capture you, I thought you might promise to stay away. And if you promise to leave the mine alone, I was going to keep the guards from following you—so you could get away."

"I got my own ideas of how much control yuh got over them guards," drawled Sonny. He rested the rifle while he rolled a cigarette, his eyes never ceasing to search the open space before him. He lighted up. "This here is a right good fort, ma'am. If your guards turn up I'll sure let yuh go out to join 'em, but I'll stay right here." He drew a fine bead upon a certain spot and waited for a long time, but the target seemed to have disappeared. "Who's handlin' the dogs?" he asked abruptly.

"One of the men," said Janet unhappily. "Mr. Tilford gave orders that they were to be given a taste of the liver and aniseed and then shown the trail. They'd follow that for more."

Sonny was silent a little while. "That was a right bright idea," he said, drawling. "A dawg that's eaten ain't got any sense of smell to speak of. Givin' 'em a taste of that there stuff was just the surest possible way of keepin' 'em from followin' any trail whatsoever. It'd be so strong on their breath they couldn't smell anything else. Those dawgs ain't followin' your trail, ma'am. They can't."

Janet stared, then paled a little. "I never thought of that," she said miserably. "You must be right. There isn't any help coming then!"

"I'm wonderin' if Tilford hadn't thought of it," drawled Sonny. He fell silent, watching the tumbled rocks outside the cavern with a grim attentiveness.

Janet's eyes were growing accustomed to the darkness now, and the darkness was not complete. From somewhere high above, a little light trickled in through vaguely outlined crevices. She could see that the cavern was not a hollow in the rock, but a leanto of stone, formed by one of the monster monoliths of the rock slide landing in such a fashion as to lean against the canyon wall, closing in a space perhaps ten feet by forty or more, of an irregular shape. The floor was fairly smooth, of earth, and there were a few boxes here and there and abunk for Sonny to sleep on.

These things, though, did not hold Janet's eyes. Two crumpled shapes upon the floor did. She drew in her breath with a little gasp as she realized what they were.

"It's gettin' twilight," Sonny observed. "I'm wonderin' if this gang'll try to rush me. It ain't hardly likely. They know I'd get a bunch of 'em an' they ain't anxious to risk their skins when they don't have to, 'spite of Garcia wantin' us right bad."

He took up his vigil again. After a little he raised his head above the stones. Two bullets ripped through his Stetson. A little later Sonny fired deliberately.

"Did you get hurt—just now?" Janet managed to ask, not daring to speak directly of the things that held her gaze fascinated.

He flipped his cigarette butt away. "Yes, ma'am," he said firmly. "My tummy hurts me an' my feelin's are considerable lacerated. I see where I got to hunt up a fellow called me a bonehead one time an' get him to mend the complaint. I just discovered, ma'am, that my head ain't bone. It's granite, an' I'm almost disgraced to be alive. Lordy, what a wallop I got!"

He rubbed his head tenderly. "I come inside," he said meditatively, "an' began most immediate to scratch a li'l hole in the floor. Those fellers were watchin', of course. I hoped they'd think I was diggin' up a payroll from the Aztec, or somethin' similar. I reg'n they did. Anyhow they didn't shoot for a while. I come on a rock, presently, an' I hid it in my shirt. An' then I began to scratch another hole, like I was goin' to dig up everything I'd ever taken. I got another rock there. All the time I was gettin' my eyes used to the darkness. I spotted one hombre right away, squattin' down with a sickly grin on his face an' his gun aimed straight at my vermiform appendix. But before I'd located the other I sure had filled my shirt full o' rocks."

He stopped to aim deliberately and fire. He grunted in satisfaction. "Smoked him then. Gave him a bank shot against the cushion. I bet he's cussin' an' pickin' lead splinters out of himself." He began to roll another cigarette. "Yes, ma'am, it was right interestin' to be diggin' up rocks outer the floor with them fellers thinkin' they was a cache of gold an' waitin' till I'd finished to plug me. When I started shootin' one of 'em let go right prompt an' it hurt my tummy scandalous. I don't advise nobody to stop bullets with a pack of rocks next to his skin. Then the feller that was left, he mixed it with me. He had to. An' he made a lump on my head with the butt of his gun that's the size of a egg laid by a right ambitious hen. He was just borin' into my neck with a knife when I managed to grab the knife outer the other fellers' belt as we was squirmin' on the floor. Then I picked up my gun again an' come runnin' to the door."

"You were just in time," whispered Janet.

"Reg'n I was," admitted Sonny. He smoked in silence for a time. "I wonder if yuh'd let me see that li'l gun y' tried to use on these hombres outside."

He reached back and Janet laid the little weapon in his hand. He squinted at it momentarily in the deepening dusk. "Firin' pin filed off," he said grimly. "It won't shoot, no matter what kinda ammunition y' put in it. Who gave it t' yuh?"

"Mr. Tilford," said Janet slowly.

"I reg'n," said Sonny coldly, "I'll have t' put him on my li'l list along with Garcia. Sendin' yuh out with a gun that wouldn't shoot, an' feedin' the dogs so they couldn't trail yuh, an' Garcia's gang waitin' most suspicious ready for yuh to come along. Ma'am, how do you figure that out?"

Janet bit her lip.

Sonny stared far down the canyon. "Some of Garcia's gang ridin' away," he observed suddenly. "Not all of 'em, I reg'n, but if I can keep 'em from gettin' in, they can sure keep us from gettin' out. Nobody knows where we are, ma'am. Nobody knows the trail in. So Garcia, he figures he can keep us holed up in here until he's all set to pry us out."

A gun flashed fire from rocks hardly forty yards from the cavern mouth. Darkness was deepening in the little canyon, though overhead the sky still shone with the clear, unilluminating light of the sunset afterglow.

"Ma'am," drawled Sonny, "we're holed up. You an' a outlaw that yuh've offered a thousan' dollars reward for, dead or alive. I got a kinda bulkhead I can drop over this here openin', insurin' privacy. I'm goin' to drop it down. I need a li'l rest."

He drew back from the opening of the cavern. A rope by the side wall was unknotted and a heavy mass of timber descended from a dangling position aloft. It landed upon the dirt floor with a soft crunching sound.

There were noises as Sonny moved about in the utter blackness. The sound of bolts and bars being forced into place.

"It 'ud take 'em quite a while to bust that down," drawled Sonny from the stygian darkness of the cave. "I waited until dark because I didn't want 'em to know it was there. It might give 'em extra confidence."

Christens New Freighter

Mrs. Albert R. Winnett, of Toronto, Canada, about to christen the freighter S.S. Executo, during launching ceremonies at Quincy, Mass. The ship belongs to the American Export Lines, of which Mrs. Winnett's father, William H. Coverdale, is president. The 11,400-ton vessel will be placed in fast service between New York and India.

Sleep Is Precious Thing

Night after night of successive alarms make sleep a precious thing to the people of London. This group of women and children are pictured together in the underground safety of an air raid shelter, sleeping until the "all clear" sounds.

Wreckage Of Raider And Raided

These smoldering ruins are not a one-sided picture of destruction, for not only has a London house been reduced to a pile of brick and lumber, but the Nazi raider responsible also lies twisted and smashed in the shambles.

Army's Eyes And Ears

The calibre of a regiment can often be estimated by its precision and smartness on parade, and this fine picture of a training detachment of the 3rd motorcycle regiment (formerly 17th Duke of York's Royal Canadian Hussars) on the parade ground of their Cote des Neiges Road armory, speaks volumes for the standard of instruction received. The bikes are brand new and have replaced the horses that the unit used to have. Motorcycle units in the new mechanized forces are the eyes and ears of the armies.

Clearing A Path Through London Blitz Wreckage

A.R.P. wardens of London energetically attack a heap of wreckage to clear a path in a street which received the brunt of a recent German air raid.

Atlantic Sentry

A Canadian soldier is shown as he surveys the sea from his look-out post on the rocky shores of Newfoundland. The colony has become one of the first lines of defence for Canada and the United States, and during recent months large numbers of Canadian troops have been moved to the island by the Royal Canadian Navy.

Dover Takes Heavy Punishment

Bombed so often that its section of southeast England has been dubbed "Hell's Corner," the port of Dover has taken heavy punishment from German raiders. Photo shows a pall of smoke hanging over the closely set houses of the town after Nazis paid one of their visits.

A Hospital Is No Protection Against Hitler's Luftwaffe

This photograph shows the terrific damage sustained by St. Thomas' hospital during a recent air raid on London. Scores of casualties were reported and much damage inflicted. Notice the man on the wagon, foreground, looking on the wrecked buildings as he delivers London's Daily Bread.

Defence Spotlight

That bright "insect" flying at right is a good-sized plane—but miles away. It was "spotlighted" by the 800,000,000 candle-power beam of one of the army's new anti-aircraft searchlights, being tested at Schenectady, N.Y. The 60-inch lights, for which a $7,777,500 order has been placed, are so powerful that a person in a plane 12 miles off can read a newspaper by its light.

Blackout's Effectiveness Hit By Flames

Soaring flames tear scarlet gaps in London's blackout after raids by Nazi bombers. Blazing building above was one of many struck in intensified attacks on the waterfront.

He's A Busy Man, Is Premier

Standing on the side of a picturesque road in rural England Prime Minister Churchill doffs his hat to receive the "eyes right" of New Zealand troops. The Prime Minister, indefatigable on his many-sided war-work, had been visiting Australian and New Zealand troops from "down under" at their nearby camps. MOTHER HELPS PLANE FUNDS: SONS OVERSEAS

Donations Reach $3,700—Cash Received From United States

"Here is my contribution to the Edmonton Spitfire Fund sent with a thankful heart that I have it to send. Thank God that I have my little grand-daughter here at my side". This is a letter received by Mayor John W. Fry from an Edmonton woman, who signs herself "A Mother with two boys serving with the Edmonton Regiment in France."

"She is giving of her flesh and blood in this struggle for humanity," stated Mayor Fry, "and is not content with this but she must send along material aid also to help Edmonton's citizens bring cheer and comfort to those resident in Edmonton, England."

"I cannot say more than to commend the action of this woman to the hundreds in Edmonton who have not yet sent in their contribution to the fund," stated Mayor Fry.

The fund has now reached $3,700, according to figures released Tuesday by City Comptroller A. A. Campbell, fund treasurer. Amongst the contributions received were Johnstone Walker Ltd., $100; Cecil Sutherland, manager, $25, and staff $31; Kiwanis Club, $250; Winspear, Hamilton and Co. and staff, $14.60; Yukon Southern Air Transport Ltd. and staff, $13.25; Red Hot Coal Co., $10, and employees $24; Northern Alberta Dairy Pool, $25; John Michaels, $25; J. W. Glenwright, Toronto, $25; Northern Hardware Co. Ltd., $100; Central Auto Top Co., $15.50, and Royal Bank of Canada staff, $23.75.

First donation from the United States was received Tuesday when a postal note for $5 was received from the Happy Hour Club, Storm Lake, Iowa, by Mayor Fry.

Crows Captured For Experiment Released Here

Work of an entire summer undertaken by Dr. William Rowan, professor of zoology at the University of Alberta, went for naught over the week-end when vandals released 125 crows which Dr. Rowan had captured for experimental purposes. The birds escaped when a door was left open in a building on the exhibition grounds which had been used as temporary housing for the crows.

Doctor Rowan, who in 1929 and 1931 was acclaimed for his first crow experiments based on a new theory concerning bird migration habits, had planned to verify his first experiments this fall by the new experiment. He had spent the summer capturing the birds.

If Dr. Rowan can get the required number of birds by Oct. 7 he will continue the experiment. He has offered to pay farmers or any person bringing him live crows in time for the experiment and will pay express charges on crates containing live crows from any part of the province — if he receives them in time.

Militiamen Who Fail To Parade May Be Penalized

The Militia Act may be invoked to punish defaulters who fail to attend the twice weekly drills of the Non-Permanent Active Militia units here, army officials in Edmonton stated Monday.

This statement was made in reply to inquiries that resulted from statements of an eastern army commander, in which he hinted prosecutions might be started for militiamen who stayed away from drills.

Tobacco Crop

OTTAWA, Oct. 1—A combination of reduced acreage, an unfavorable season, and extensive frost damage to the flue-cured crop in Ontario has reduced Canada's tobacco production this year to less than half of the 1939 figure, the Dominion bureau of statistics reported Monday, estimating production at 48,960,500 pounds, compared with a revised estimate of 107,703,400 pounds in 1939.

Raid Casualties

NEW YORK, Oct. 1 — The Associated Press in a cable from London today said unofficial estimates of London's casualties in almost incessant air raids during September placed the number of dead at about 5,000 and the injured about 8,000. The official casualty report for August was 1,075 dead and 1,261 injured.

Clear Weather

LONDON, Oct. 1—Weather reports from Dover Monday night described a brilliant rainbow which formed an archway over the Strait of Dover just before sunset. The French coast could be seen clearly through the arc, the reports said, that buildings on the French waterfront could be picked out with the naked eye. The sea was fairly calm.

Airmen Of R.A.A.F. Arrive In Canada

Airmen of the Royal Australian Air Force are shown as they were inspected by Lieutenant-Governor E. W. Hamber, of British Columbia, when they arrived at western Canada port. These airmen will complete their training in Canada under the Empire training scheme.

Smoky, misty weather still was holding northern pilots grounded in Edmonton on Tuesday but rain was reported in several sections of the north and it was expected that this would wash a large part of the forest fire haze from the air and bring clearer visibility.

Making the first flight south from Chipewyan in several days, Alf Caywood, Canadian Airways and Page McPhee, Mackenzie Air Service, were reported bound for McMurray. When weather and visibility permit, they will continue to Edmonton.

Jack Moar, C.A.L., was at Yellowknife from Aklavik and Archie McMullen, M.A.S., was overnight at Simpson, bound for Norman Wells.

Yukon Southern reported that smoke and rain had blanked out visibility on their northern lines but that the planes expected to leave here on schedule Wednesday as the weather was breaking at Watson Lake, in northern British Columbia.

EXPORT LICENSE LIST INCREASED BY ROOSEVELT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1—President Roosevelt today tightened up on exports of war materials by subjecting to the export licensing system fire control instruments, military searchlights, aerial cameras and other types of military equipment containing optical elements.

The new restrictions, which become effective Oct. 15, do not in themselves constitute an embargo. However, the order creates machinery for shutting off such exports at will, simply by refusing the issuance of export licenses.

A White House statement accompanying the proclamation said Roosevelt took the action to strengthen national defense.

The president previously had placed a long list of other articles on the export licensing list, and had imposed an embargo on shipments of aviation gasoline and scrap iron and steel outside the western hemisphere. Great Britain, however, was excepted from the scrap-steel ban, which was directed at Japan.

Building Zooms $19,350 Here As Permits Issued

Building permits swung up $19,350 on Monday when permits were taken out for the erection of three dwellings, and two permits for alterations to existing houses.

A permit was issued to W. J. Trott, 9938 108 street, for the addition of eight suites to a rooming house. The cost of this is $9,800.

A. W. Field, 11244 68 St., was granted a permit to erect a frame and stucco dwelling costing $2,500, and Phil Crawley, 10804 72 avenue, received a permit to build a frame dwelling at a cost of $2,000. A permit for a frame and stucco house costing $3,250 was issued to H. J. Dively, 11029 80 avenue. George Watt, 11249 94 street, took out a permit for alterations to his home to cost $1,800.

Hits At Japan

CHUNGKING, China, Oct. 1—Chinese Foreign Minister Wang Chung-Hui struck out Monday night at Japan's entry into the Rome-Berlin axis, declaring China would "never recognize the 'new order in greater East Asia' and especially refuses to recognize Japan's so-called leadership therein."

Charged with being in possession of two unregistered revolvers, Gunshi Ure Hara, Edmonton Japanese, was fined $10 and costs, with the option of 14 days in jail, by Magistrate Millar in police court Tuesday. Accused told the court through his son, who served as interpreter, that the guns belonged to his grandfather. Hara had brought them to the police station to be registered when the charge was laid. All revolvers were required to be registered before the end of June, 1939.

BOARD TO STUDY FITTING HOUSE AS CHILD DEPOT

The provincial child placement commission, at a meeting at 5 p.m. Tuesday (today), in the Macdonald hotel, will consider alterations to Government House to fit it as a receiving depot for British guest children.

An estimate of $3,000 made by the public works department will be considered by the commission for renovations and structural changes, also maintenance, heating and lighting until March 31, 1941.

A detailed estimate of the cost has been received by the commission but further explanations will be heard from department officials. Rev. Dr. George A. Macdonald is chairman of the commission and Robert Muir is secretary.

Dormitories must be fitted up for the children and it is expected this will cost about $750.

Government House, closed in May, 1938, has been kept in good condition, with a caretaker on the premises.

Mohammedans To Observe Ramadan Fast Wednesday

Two hundred and fifty Mohammedans in the Edmonton district will start the annual fast of Ramadan on Wednesday, October 2, and will continue a dawn to dusk fast for 30 days.

The Ramadan fast is one of the five pillars of the Mohammedan faith, and is an absolute requirement of Islam.

Under the terms of the fast members of this religion are compelled to abstain from eating, drinking, smoking, etc., during daylight hours.

Special services will be held daily throughout the fast at the Edmonton Mosque, the only church of its kind in Canada, and at the conclusion of the fast a festival will be held in thankfulness for the faithful observance of the fast.

Late Threshing Is Delayed By District Rain

Causing some considerable delay in harvesting operations in Edmonton and district, a light rain was general in the northern part of the province Tuesday. The forecast for Tuesday is not much change.

Monday's highest temperature was 73 above, the lowest 37. At 8:30 a.m. Tuesday the mercury read 42 above, with Tuesday's low up to that time being 38 at 6:30 a.m. The barometer reading was 27:60 increasing.

Northern weather was mostly showery, with heavier rains reported at Beaverlodge, High Prairie, Grouard and Spirit River. Pelican was overcast and smoky.

Development Of Pouce Coupe Oil Impresses Expert

Oil development in the Pouce Coupe district of the Peace River country greatly impressed Robert E. Allen, newly-appointed chairman of the Alberta Oil and Gas Conservation Board, he reported on his return from a week-end aerial tour of the area.

Mr. Allen was accompanied by Hon. N. E. Tanner, Alberta minister of lands and mines. They visited the Gardian No. 1 well which is down 6,100 feet, with good showings of oil in the drilling.

They plan to visit Fort McMurray, Wainwright, Fabyan, Vermilion, Ribstone and other fields.

Recruiting Party Will Visit North During This Week

Northern districts will be visited by a military recruiting party this week, when Lt.-Col. Louis Scott, chief recruiting officer for Military District No. 13, will head a group into the Peace River and Grande Prairie districts. Fairview is also to be visited.

There are about 300 vacancies to be filled in the ranks of the active service unit of the Edmonton Fusiliers (M.G.).

Recruits will also be sought for the forestry unit being raised here now under the command of Maj. Roy Pointer.

The Fusiliers active service unit had on Monday a total strength of 655 and the planned strength is 962.

PROPAGANDA IS RIFE IN JAPAN STUDENT AVERS

Japan is rife with German propaganda and German influence, through conscientious endeavors during the past year by the Nazis to gain Japanese friendship, stated Morris Shumiatcher, University of Alberta law student, who has returned to continue his studies after five weeks in Japan.

The new military and economic alliance between Rome, Berlin and Tokyo came as no surprise, Mr. Shumaitcher said. During the last few months, the staff of the German embassy in Tokyo has increased by at least four times, and the sale of German newspapers there has been vastly increased, he said.

Mr. Shumiatcher was one of two Canadian university students chosen to be the guests of the Japanese government for the summer. He was "royally treated" and found the people kindly and hospitable, but completely subservient to authority or a uniform of any kind, he said. The premier is called "Japan's Hitler," he added.

Warm Weather Is Main Feature Of September Report

A brief resume of September weather shows that the month was on the whole warm and dry, featured by bright sunshine and clear northern winds. Precipitation was below average and smoke from surrounding forest fires was the only "blot" on the horizon.

Mean temperature for the month of September was 56.5 above. Average for the same period in 21 years was 59.59. The lowest was 30 above as compared with the average over the previous 21 years of 14 above. Reports reveal that since 1898 the September low has not dropped under 14 above.

Alberta Waiting For Renewal Of Relief Division

Stating that there was no official word at present, officials of the provincial relief department said Tuesday they still were hopeful that the 40-40-20 division of relief costs would be renewed. The draft agreement for 1940-41 has not yet been received from Ottawa.

Under the agreement in force for the past year the Dominion and province each pay 40 per cent., and the municpialities 20 per cent. of material aid costs, exclusive of administration and hospitalization, which are borne by the municipalities.

The province is continuing to pay relief to families of men joining military forces until they receive their first payment of separation allowances from the Dominion, officials said Tuesday.

Kiwanis Club Donates $250 To Plane Fund

Donation of $250 to the Edmonton Spitfire fund was approved at a luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis Club in the Macdonald hotel Monday. The donation was accepted by Mayor John W. Fry, a club member. The contribution was made from the club's war service fund which was built up during the year by weekly donations from members.

Guest artist during the luncheon was Chief White Feather, an American Indian, and a former member of the Metropolitan Opera Society. He studied under Walter Damrosch, the noted American musician, and made his debut with the Metropolitan in 1928.

Dr. J. E. Bowstead, associate professor of animal husbandry at the University of Alberta, spoke on his recent visits in Germany, after the outbreak of war, and in Italy. He said the Italian people had supported Mussolini in his Ethiopian venture, but had opposed Italian participation in the Spanish war.

Workers' Study Group Starting Series Meetings

A film showing the history of trade unionism and a lecture on the same subject by Stanley Rands formed the principal part of the program of the season's first meeting of the Workers' Educational Association, Monday evening in the Labor hall. Robert McCreath, president, was chairman.

H. D. Ainlay addressed the meeting and outlined the plans of the W.E.A. in dealing with the economic, political and social program of the Labor movement.

In the series of meetings to be held, subjects to be studied are co-operation, forms of government and political history.

St. Stephen's To Begin Lectures During Week

Registration opened Monday for the fall term of St. Stephen's college, and classes will commence in a few days. Principal A. S. Tuttle will be in Edmonton and at the college throughout October. In November he will return to eastern Canada in connection with his new duties as moderator of the United Church of Canada, to which office he was elected at a recent general council in Winnipeg.

Dr. Tuttle was on the platform at the Sunday morning service in McDougall church, his home church, and was welcomed and congratulated in behalf of the congregation by the minister, Rev. A. K. McMinn.

More than 18,500,000,000 pounds of meat and lard, or 145 pounds for every man, woman and child in the country, were consumed by the people of the United States during 1939.
